

LIGHT VOTE POLLED IN CITY; KENDALL CARRIES ALL BUT SECOND WARD

Present Congressman Stronger in Connellsville Than Followers Had Hoped For.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN

Estimated Total of Votes Cast Is Only 900, or Less Than Half of the Number Registered; Democratic Vote Very Light; No Contests on Ticket.

While voting was very light in Connellsville Tuesday, there being few contests on either ticket, Samuel A. Kendall of Meyersdale, led the field of Congressional candidates here by a good majority. He defeated James B. Werner of Somerset by a margin of 256 votes, while Victor E. Francis of Perryopolis ran a poor third.

The vote polled in the city is estimated to have been about 900. This is far below the registration of the city's voters.

The contest for the Congressional nomination of the Republican ticket was practically the only interesting phase of the primary. While it was predicted early last evening that Kendall would probably carry Connellsville, many thought the vote would be close. Werner carried only one ward, the Second, while Kendall's majorities in all others were substantial. Francis received a light vote.

The total vote polled by each candidate follows:

Kendall 426
Werner 170
Francis 81

The returns showed the First ward strong for Kendall with 119 votes compared to 19 for Werner and three for Francis.

In the Second, the only ward to go to Werner, that candidate received 24 votes, Kendall 18 and Francis seven. The Third swung sharply back to Kendall, he receiving a total of 71 votes here, 30 going to Werner and 10 to Francis.

The Fourth ward vote was 52 for Kendall, 15 for Werner and two for Francis. The Congressional vote was split in the Fifth ward. Here Kendall led with 47 votes, Werner coming up with 39 and Francis getting 13.

A close race developed in the Sixth ward where Francis polled his heaviest vote, getting 40. Kendall also led here, polling 42. Werner received 31.

The Seventh also went to Kendall, 87 votes being polled for him here against 11 for Werner and six for Francis.

William E. Crow and Isaac Good led in the Republican contest for delegate to the national convention. Crow polled a vote of 563, followed by Good with 401, defeating the third candidate, Irvin T. Huff, who only received 223. The vote in the Fifth would not be sufficiently large to change the standing for the city.

For Representative in Congress-at-large William J. Burke, Thomas S. Crago, Mahlon M. Garland and Joseph McLaughlin defeated John O. Sheatz and Anderson H. Walters. Crago led in the total vote cast, receiving 569. Burke was second with 528. Garland polled 434 votes and McLaughlin 411. Sheatz polled the lowest vote with 143 and Walters also lost out with 52 votes.

There was no opposition to Ernest R. Koozer, Duncan Sinclair and Lee Smith for representative in the general assembly, and they received the full vote in all wards.

T. B. Donnelly and Mart A. Kiefer, out for the state committee, were also without opposition.

On the non-partisan ticket Sylvester B. Sadler led George Kunkel. The vote was not procured at every ward but where the returns were posted, Sadler led the lead by large margin.

All other candidates on the Republican ticket polled the full vote, there being no opposition to any office.

On the Democratic ticket there was no contest for any office. The vote of this party, with the exception of that in the Third ward, was light. In the Third 102 Democratic votes were cast. Each candidate received a full vote on that ticket.

Central committeemen were elected in the majority of the wards without opposition. In the First T. V. Donagan and Harry Hopkins were named by the Republicans. The Democratic return sheets were not posted there.

Thomas Brennan and T. H. McGuire were named by the Republicans in the Second ward, S. Desmore and B. Rottler receiving the vote on the Democratic ballot.

W. S. Beahman and Home Moser were elected by Third ward Republicans. Democrats of the same ward chose E. T. Lyne and William McCormick.

KENDALL SHOWS LEAD OF 10 TO ONE OVER WERNER IN DISTRICT

Present Incumbent Easily Leads Field of Republican Congressional Candidates.

Incomplete returns from the 23rd congressional district for the Republican nomination indicate S. A. Kendall, the present incumbent, has been nominated by an overwhelming vote over James B. Werner of Somerset and Victor E. Francis of Perryopolis. Although no accurate returns could be secured, figures coming in gave the impression the vote would be 10 to one for Kendall.

Returns from 22 precincts out of 107 in Fayette county give Kendall 1,064; Werner, 413; Francis, 150.

In Somerset county, it is also reported that Kendall has a big lead, and the same holds good in Greene county, although the majority there is not so large.

men-elected are George Blair and Charles Rowe on the Republican ballot, and Harry Lewis and Fred Bohrer on the Democratic.

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN RURAL DISTRICTS

In the country districts there was little interest in the election. Out in Ballistik No. 2 the election officers had practically nothing to do. Twenty-five persons had voted at 6 o'clock.

"We got one hour whether we need it or not," said a member of the board.

WERNER SWANKED IN CONNELLVILLE TWP.

In Connellsville township No. 2 Representative Kendall polled 54 votes to seven for Werner for Congress. Francis received none. The vote for Sadler for Supreme Court was 69 to nine cast for Kunkel. Senator Crow and Isaiah Good each received 69 for national delegate. Elmer Hough and Samuel Anderson were elected members of the central committee.

WYANT NOMINATED

Greensburg Has Big Lead Over His Rival in Westmoreland.

GREENSBURG, May 19.—Incomplete returns show that A. M. Wyant, Republican, has been nominated for Congress in the Westmoreland-Butler district by 2,000 to 4,000 lead over Levi M. Wise, editor of the Butler Eagle.

Four thousand votes were polled in Butler county and about 10,000 in Westmoreland. Wise received about 75 per cent of the total in his home county and Wyant had a similar complementary vote in Westmoreland.

FIRST DISTRICT CLOSE

Incomplete Returns Give Russell Smiley Slight Lead.

The contest for the legislature in the first district of Fayette county was close between Merchant L. Collier, now a member of the state assembly, and Russell Smiley.

Thirty out of 37 precincts gave Collier 562 and Smiley 635; a lead of 61 for Smiley.

REFUSES WAGE PETITIONS

Railway Labor Board Bars Representatives of Strikers From Hearings.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The United States Railway Labor Board today flatly refused to hear petitions for increased wages presented by John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's association and officers of other organizations which voted on strike recently in defiance of orders from the national railroad brotherhood.

The ruling bars representatives of all the strikers who quit work last month from a hearing. It sustains the contention of the brotherhood officials that the strikers could obtain representation before the board by returning to their old organizations.

Thirty leaders of strike organizations were present when the ruling was handed down, including Grunau and Harold Reading, president of the United Engineers' association.

A. K. Mahoney, vice president of the Cleveland Yardmen's association, which he said, has 2,600 members on strike, characterized the board's decision as an outrage.

AID FOR SCOTSDALE MILL MEN IN BUYING HOMES IS POSSIBLE

American Sheet & Tin Plate Company Announces Plan of Financing.

WILL EITHER BUY OR BUILD

Announcement has been made at the offices of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company at Scottdale of a plan whereby the several hundred employees of the two plants at that place may own their own homes. Booklets describing the plan are being distributed and a lot of interest has been manifested. Three methods are outlined.

The first provides for the purchase by the company of the dwelling tenanted by the employee, if privately owned, and sale to the employee in small monthly payments covering 10 to 15 years, provided an initial payment of 10 per cent of the cost of the property is made. Interest will be charged at the rate of five per cent.

The second method, styled Method B, provides for the selection and purchase of a site and the erection thereon of a home by the company, payment to be made under the terms of Method A.

The third, Method C, is designed to meet the condition where an employee wishes to make a large initial payment. A loan will be made by the company, not to exceed 75 per cent of the cost of the property, and repayment will be secured by first mortgage, the remainder of the payments being distributed over a maximum of 10 years. This plan applies not only to existing buildings but to houses to be built.

Under Methods A and B title to the property remains with the company until payments have been completed. Under the third method the title is placed with the purchaser.

Locations must be easily accessible to the place of employment and must be approved by the company.

Reasonable alterations will be made to the property at the time of purchase and the costs included in the contract price. Repairs during the period of payment must be made by the tenant. Should they not be kept up the company will make them and add the cost to the contract price. Fire insurance policies will be taken out by the company and the cost added to the payments.

Credits ranging from $50 per $1,000 invested down to $15 per thousands are allowed for completion of payment within less than the specified time.

In event of sickness or unavoidable suspension from work or temporary reduction of earnings the company will make arrangement for extension of the time of payment.

HOG EXPERT COMING

W. M. McFadden, State College, to Be in Luzerne Township May 25.

W. M. McFadden, secretary for the American Poland China Breeders' association, will be the guest of the Fayette County Poland China Breeders' association Tuesday, May 25. He will arrive from State college with Dr. H. H. Haver and the morning will be spent in visiting several breeders surrounding Unatowant.

A field day has been arranged during the afternoon on the farm of George Cox in Luzerne township. The community surrounding the Cox farm is considered as the section in which Poland Chinas developed in Fayette county and it only seems right that it should be honored by having this place the center of the attraction during Mr. McFadden's visit to the county.

The men of this community will assemble the best from their herds on the Cox farm. Mr. McFadden will pass judgment on the stock shown here, and will give a practical talk on the Poland Chinas as well as hog feeding and management in general. He will aid in giving publicity and also advise local breeders as to plans for the future.

FINE LOT OF TROUT

Dr. Edward and Son and Warren Wright Get 57 Weighing 28 Pounds.

Talking about a fine lot of trout—Dr. Thomas B. Edward, his son, Thomas, Jr., and Warren L. Wright—brought it to town last night. There were 57 in the basket they carried and they weighed 28 pounds, not including the basket. They were beautiful large fellows, measuring from 10 to 15½ inches long and all were of the "brook or speckled variety. It is safe to say no finer "mess" has been hooked this season. They caught them in the mountains back of Lock Haven and feel they were well rewarded for the long trip. Thomas, Jr., had a large part in the sport, several big ones being credited to his skill.

The catch was placed on display this morning at the Wright-Metzler grocery store in North Pittsburgh street.

All Bishops Elected.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 19.—Election of white bishops for the Methodist Episcopal church was completed today by the general conference with the election of Dr. C. L. Mead of Denver, who was chosen on the ninth ballot, his vote being 553, with 546 necessary to elect.

FIREMAN ACTING AS BRAKEMAN IS KILLED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Was on Duty for First Day; Accident Occurs on Fairmont Branch Near Smithfield.

When a car on which he was riding toppled over, George J. Harris, 30 years old, a Baltimore & Ohio railroad brakeman, was killed Tuesday afternoon near Smithfield, the first day he was on duty as a brakeman. For the past four months Harris had been employed on the Connellsville division as a fireman. There being a scarcity of brakemen he was asked yesterday to man a train, being assigned to the local freight on the Fairmont branch.

As the train was nearing Smithfield, the car on which Harris was standing left the track and turned over on its side. Harris was crushed beneath the wreckage and life was extinct when he was picked up by other trainmen. The body was brought to Funeral Director J. E. Sims' parlors and prepared for burial. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until the arrival of Harris' wife from Baltimore. The deceased was a veteran of the World War. In addition to his widow, one child survives. The wreck delayed traffic on the Fairmont branch for five hours.

Robert H. Gibson of Somerset, 33 years old, was instantly killed Monday evening at Hooversville when he was thrown beneath a freight car on the Somerset & Cambria branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The accident occurred when Gibson, who was employed as a brakeman, was applying the brakes on the "831" siding. He was thrown beneath the freight car, a wheel passing over the right shoulder and severing it. In addition he suffered a broken neck and several bad wounds of the head.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mary Gibson, and one son, Harry Gibson, seven years old. It is said that the engineer of the car witnessed the accident and brought his engine to a halt almost immediately, but too late to prevent the fatality. Gibson's body was removed to Funeral Director S. C. Brooks' parlors at Somerset and prepared for burial.

On the stand in his wife's behalf this morning, the husband testified that he had been harsh with his wife the evening before the shooting. He also said he had written letters, signing the name of his wife. He admitted having had his hand on the back of the chair on which Mrs. Burke sat when she was shot.

About the courthouse it was believed a verdict of not guilty would be returned.

On the stand in her own behalf, Mrs. Roddy Tuesday testified she remembered nothing she did after seeing her husband embracing and kissing Mrs. Burke.

"I don't remember," was invariably the fair defendant's answer to questions put to her by both her own counsel and the prosecuting attorneys, who grilled her for two hours.

Mrs. Roddy said she did not remember where she got the revolver she is alleged to have used; she did not remember firing the five shots she is accused of firing; she did not remember calling a neighbor and instructing that neighbor to call a physician, and she did not remember telling Burgess, Peckles and others of the shooting and the circumstances leading up to it.

Her story was that of a woman scorned. She told of suffering humiliation at the hands of her husband; told of his seeming indifference toward her after the Burke woman came to the house, and frequently resorted to "I didn't dare" when questioned as to why she failed to do certain things, such as ordering Mrs. Burke from the Roddy home. She was under the complete domination of her husband, she said, and "put up with it" only because of her children.

The defense sprung a surprise when it called Frank Burke, husband of the dead woman, who identified the handwriting and signature on two letters as that of his former wife.

MASONTOWN MAN, ONCE KICKED BY A HORSE, HANGS HIMSELF

Jacob H. Willard, well-known citizen of Masontown, and brother of John W. Willard, veteran public school teacher of that place, ended his life yesterday afternoon by hanging himself to a rafter in the wash house at his home. Several years ago Mr. Willard was kicked on the head by a horse and since then he had suffered pains, at intervals, in the head. It is believed the injury affected his mind and caused him to take his life.

Mr. Willard and his wife had been talking together in the house when he arose and as it about his regular duties, walked from the house. Three quarters of an hour later Mrs. Willard discovered the body. The man had made a noose of binder twine, fastened it to a rafter while mounted on a chair, and stepped off.

Neighbors, hearing the screams of Mrs. Willard, rushed to the scene. Mrs. Maggie Darrell cut down the body.

RODDY CASE WITH JURY; HUSBAND ON STAND FOR WIFE

Husband of Latrobe Woman Who Killed Supposed Rival Admits Harshness.

HER MEMORY IS FAULTY

GREENSBURG, May 19.—A verdict this afternoon was expected in the trial of Mrs. Goldie Roddy of Latrobe, accused of shooting and killing Mrs. Mary Burke, a domestic in the Roddy home at Latrobe, last March 1. Judge Charles D. Copeland began his charge to the jury after the noon recess. The summing up by Phil K. Shaner for the defense began at 9:35, and District Attorney N. A. Cori concluded his address at noon.

On the stand in his wife's behalf this morning, the husband testified that he had been harsh with his wife the evening before the shooting. He also said he had written letters, signing the name of his wife. He admitted having had his hand on the back of the chair on which Mrs. Burke sat when she was shot.

NEW BUREAUS TO BE FORMED BY THE COUNTY RED CROSS

First Aid and An Active Junior Organization Approved By Committee.

DENTAL CLINIC PLANNED

Graduate Will Be Placed in Charge of Unit For Purpose of Instruction in Schools; Committee to Look After Needs in Future Disasters.

Establishment of two new bureaus of Red Cross work in the county was approved by the executive committee of the Fayette county chapter at a meeting in Uniontown yesterday. They are first aid and an active junior body. The matter must now be put up to the directors for approval.

The aim in the first aid movement is to bring all first aid work in the county under the supervision of the Red Cross and provide for a uniform course of instruction along the lines worked out by the Red Cross.

In connection with the bureau for junior work it is proposed to establish a dental clinic. This will take the form of a traveling outfit on wheels or some other form of portable equipment. It is the plan to have a dentist employed all or a part of this time to give instruction in the schools on the care of the teeth and the dangers that menace the health if the teeth are neglected. This is considered one of the best features of the bureau.

The plans also provide for continuance of civilian relief and home nursing and care of the sick. These branches will be enlarged as the need requires.

A departure is to be the formation of a committee on disaster, the work of which will be to accord relief in disasters and epidemics.

An informal meeting looking toward the formation of an active branch of the Red Cross at Brownsville was held last evening, with Mrs. Mary, Perkins Buckner and Walter E. Schenck of this city in attendance.

NEWS OF THE COURT

Domestic Relations Ongoing, Attention at Weekly Session.

Domestic relations held the attention of the Fayette county court at its regular weekly session Tuesday. Petitions were presented and orders entered in a number of cases.

Mrs. Jessie George, of Connellsville, presented a petition for a nisi upon her husband, Andrew George, for the payment of $250 counsel fees in the pending divorce case. George is seeking an absolute divorce while his wife has made application for a decree a mensa et thoro. She is now receiving $60 per month alimony.

Robert Shackelford, of Fairbance, was directed to pay $45 per month for the support of his three children following a hearing upon a non-support charge preferred by his wife, Ethel Shackelford.

Harry McMillen was ordered remanded to jail until he had complied with the order of court regarding alimony payments.

John W. Martin was directed to pay $10 per week to his wife, Mrs. Lillie B. Martin, of Uniontown, for the support of his two children following a hearing in the non-support case.

Samuel Roun presented a petition asking for a rehearing in a habeas corpus proceeding to secure the custody of his daughter, Mary Frances Roun, who is now being cared for by Josephine Hughes, formerly Roun. He set forth in his petition that he was unable at present to see the child.

RECOMMENDS DISMISSAL

Of Complaint on Rate on Coal From the Monongahela Railroad.

The examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission who investigated the complaint of the Seaboard By-Product Coal company, Seaboard, N. J., on a claim for excessive freight charges on coal shipped by the Monongahela railroad from mines of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad to Seaboard, has recommended the dismissal of the complaint.

The coke company asserted that it was charged a freight rate of $2.88 a net ton on coal from Pittsburgh & Lake Erie mines to its plant at Seaboard, whereas the rate, it says, should have been $2.16 a ton.

The Grim Reaper

MRS. HENRIETTA WHITE.
Mrs. Florence Henrietta White, 78 years old, widow of Edward Y. White, died Monday night at 7:15 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Van Natta, in Los Angeles, Cal. The deceased had been failing in health for the past several months. Mrs. White was born in Connelville and spent virtually all her life here. She was a daughter of John K. and Elizabeth Sheppard Brown, who at their time were among the most prominent residents of Connelville. Mr. Brown was one of the originators of the Hill Grove cemetery association in 1868 and was president of the association and the chief stockholder. Mrs. White was married April 27, 1868, to Edward Y. White of Connelville. To the union three children were born, two surviving as follows: Mrs. A. W. Van Natta and Samuel Basil White, both of Los Angeles. John Henry White, a son, died some years ago. Mrs. White left Connelville about three years ago for Gary, Ind., to reside with her son, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Basil White. Later they moved to Los Angeles and since then Mrs. White had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Van Natta. In addition to her children the deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. F. O. Goodwin of St. Petersburg, Fla., and one brother, George B. Brown of Brownsville, Tex., both former well-known residents of Connelville. Mrs. White who was a veteran of the Civil War, died several years ago. Mrs. White was one of the most widely known residents of this community and was highly respected by her friends.

The body will arrive here Monday and will be removed by Funeral Director J. E. Sims to the Methodist Protestant church, of which the deceased was a member, where services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Lamberton. The interment will be made in Hill Grove cemetery.

ROBERT H. CROUSE.
The funeral of Robert H. Crouse, who died Tuesday morning at his home in Sycamore street, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence, and at 2:30 o'clock at St. John's German Lutheran church of which the deceased was a member. The interment will be made in Hill Grove cemetery.

LEVI WEIBEL.
Funeral services for Levi Weibel, retired Suislaw township farmer, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Paradise church of the Evangelical Association, the pastor, Rev. H. H. Faust, officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in Greenlick cemetery. Acting as pallbearers were John Lyons, J. M. Ritenour, N. R. Lyons, Norman Washburn, William Byers and Charles Wadsworth. Mr. Weibel, who

Atlantic Puts Wings on your Car

Like a bird in flight—that's the sensation you'll get with Atlantic in your tank. For you don't feel the road under you. You just think of going somewhere—swiftly, surely, with a tireless force in your engine and a steady even beat like the motion of pinions.

Every drop of Atlantic gives full account of the quality in it. It all burns. None is left to trickle into the vitals of your engine, and break down your lubrication. Atlantic works smoothly, cleanly. It doesn't foul engines nor spark plugs. It is economy itself, because it gives you full mileage.

Away with worry about your carburetor. For Atlantic has the range of performance that makes tinkering unnecessary. Once it's set, you just drive—up hill and down dale, with power flowing like the streams you pass.

Now is the time to use the best gasoline you can get. And remember that auto-engines were designed to burn gasoline. For full power, full mileage, tank up with the fuel that is used by most car-owners and truck-owners in this state. They get it where you see the Red Pump and the Atlantic sign.

Regular Boy Soap

Boys really need Grandpa's Wonder Soap more than any other member of the family. In their rough and tumble play they accumulate dirt of all kinds. The GENUINE FINE TAR lather of Grandpa's Soap lifts the dirt and dust out and saves time and scrubbing.

It's popular with all the family. They use it for baths and shampooing, for keeping complexions clear. It's the all round home soap. Grandpa's is fine for removing grease spots from skirts or linen.

For over 42 years Grandpa's Wonder Soap has been the great economical all-purpose soap. Look for the picture of Grandpa on the carton.

Checking the Rising Tide of Prices.
To assist in checking the rising tide of prices, Bendiners feel it their duty to use such influence as is in their power to bring down the prices on women's, misses' and girls' apparel.

As a step in this direction, Bendiners desire to announce that beginning Wednesday, at 9 o'clock, they will offer for a limited time hundreds of garments taken from their regular stock embracing over $40,000 worth of spring apparel, consisting of high-grade suits, coats, dresses, waists, undergarments, girls' wear, skirts, millinery, furs, etc. Reducing prices to the lowest possible level.

A phenomenal spring sale offering sensational reductions throughout the store. This event, coming as it does in the height of the season, will mean a great saving of money to those women who take advantage of it; and they will at the same time cooperate with us in this movement toward lowering apparel prices. Bendiner's La-

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S.
Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet placed in the drinking water will positively save your little chicks
from all such diseases.
Inside of 48 hours the sick ones will be as lively as chicks. Avicol keeps them healthy and makes them grow and develop.

*Mrs. Vannie Thacker, R. T. D. 3, St.
Paris, O., writes: "I had 30 chicks and they all died but 32. Then I commenced on Avicol and haven't lost any since.
They have grown wonderfully."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and promptly cures white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, sell us and your money will be refunded by return mail. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25c or 50c today for a package by mail postpaid. Burrell-Ducker Co., 320

WEDNESDAY EVE, MAY 13, 1920.

THE RED CROSS AND RELIEF
WORKWhat does it mean that the Red Cross has found 2,300 cases in Fayette county requiring attention of the civilian relief bureau?Can it be that in these days of high cost of living, exceptional hardships and unusual opportunities for employment, there is to large a proportion of the people without adequate means of support that they are obliged to accept assistance from the Red Cross?Or, has the prevailing conditions been productive of a prodigality and wastefulness that, when families have been overtaken by any one or more of the misfortunes to which all are heir, it has resulted in the creation of circumstances requiring attention such as the Red Cross can give?Or, has the cost of living kept increasing so steadily that the margin between income and outgo has been obliterated?Or, has the Red Cross simply made the "discovery," never before known to the general public, that we have among our population a more or less fixed percentage of unfortunate whose material welfare is affected about the same by both good and bad times?Whether one or all of these assumptions apply, the fact remains that the Red Cross is filling a need which has never been fully realized, until now.
It is filling it so well that, when we contemplate what will be the consequences of a protracted or widespread economic depression, we will have still more abundant reason to be glad that we have this great agency of mercy to meet the situation.

"CLEAN-UP" WEEK.

In order to stir some citizens to action in the matter of cleaning up their premises it seems to be necessary each spring for the city authorities to issue a formal reminder. This ought to be unnecessary, and to most people it is, but others are so lacking in community pride, to say nothing of their disregard for the preservation of the public health, that they have, in a measure, to be driven to do what they well know is their obligation to do.
Thus the time is at hand for the announcement to be made by the mayor that the present is to be utilized by all citizens as "clean-up week," and to accompany the proclamation with the warning that property owners or tenants who do not comply with the request will become liable to arrest.The meaning of the orders, the enforcement of which will be supervised by the health department, is familiar to every resident. All the refuse that has collected in the backyards and elsewhere during the winter months, and which form unsightly and unsanitary accumulations, are to be gathered up, hauled away and dumped or destroyed so as to remove the menace to health, the presence of such material will cause when the summer days come. The breeding places of flies can then be broken up and dangers from that source reduced to the minimum.
There can be no reasonable excuse for failure to comply with the regulations relating to the annual clean-up.
The weather is no longer a hindrance.
Just a little "elbow grease" during a few hours and the employment of a team to haul your collection away and the job will be done. You will feel better in knowing that you have done the proper thing for your own household's credit, your neighbor's comfort and the public good health.SPEEDING THE DAY OF LOWER PRICES.Those who follow the reports from the market centers and in recent despatches several signs pointing to a lower price range. The changes having occurred in important lines it is believed they can safely be taken as reflecting the general trend the public has waited for so long and so expectantly.From Boston, the wool center of the country, comes the information that the market is falling to an unusual degree for the season. Dealers and manufacturers appear to be standing aside and are buying little. It is not escaping the attention of the dealers in wool that many of the industries are beginning to show signs of weakness; that orders are curtailed and even canceled in the textile trade, as they are in the leather industry. There is no longer the incentive to speculation.Imports of wool from South America have been almost as much as during the last year of the war when the government was drawing upon every available producing center to supply a reserve for the army and navy. The plan of private interests to withhold the Australian clip from the market having failed it will probably begin to move. England is overstocked and cannot take it, hence the larger part will reach America. In addition tothe imports, the native clip will soon be on the market, forming the largest accumulation of wool the United States has ever known. That condition, coupled with the tendency toward restrictions in buying should result in lower prices for woolen fabrics and garments.Curtailed in domestic buying of cotton and silk goods, which has been in effect for some time past in New York, has been followed by a tapering off in export demand. Orders placed a month or more ago are being canceled.
Another index of the downward tendency is being displayed at the international fur auction in progress at St. Louis where a reduction of 20 to 30 per cent in bidding prices has taken place since February. Still another straw in the balance of the action of tanneries in the vicinity of Philadelphia curtailing production to a great extent, because of the almost total lack of buying.These and many similar evidences confirm the opinion of the best informed observers that the extent to which buyers regulate their wants and tastes and workers industriously apply themselves to swelling production, just so will the day of lower prices be advanced in its coming.The small number of Democratic voters in the primary merely shows that the party as a whole is beginning to realize the futility of turning out at the November election.The passage by the state convention of the Democratic party in Georgia expressing "unalterable opposition" to the League of Nations covenant, as brought back from Paris by President Wilson, and which A. Mitchell Palmer was sent to the southern states to champion, tends to disprove the exaggerated and beautiful claims of the administration that "my policies have been approved in the home of 'them' Watson and Senator Hoke Smith." If there be doubt upon this point, it is removed by the action of the convention when, with "an uproar of hisses, jeers and cat-calls" it refused to pass a resolution endorsing the President, civility and league.There was a light vote yesterday but it was sufficient to put the heavyweights across.Old time oil men would not have felt at home at last night's "apuding" in ceremonies.

Is Americanization Enough?

World Outlook.

From a recent conversation with a Russian "kromy," to whom the United States had given education and prosperity, it seems to me that unless the church can take a definite hand in establishing new standards for the foreigners who have come to our country, our whole Americanization program will be a failure rather than a benefit.
The Russian woman and her ways are different from the conditions and characteristics of the Russian peasants, when something was said about their essentially religious nature.How, yet, she said, of course, when they are so ignorant and miserable they believe in God; but when they get to America and get an education they learn better.

It is declared that should the San certain death. The only thing left is to arrange for the obsequies.

The Way Out

American Metal Market.

Thoughtful men are devoting much attention these days to considering the question of how we are going to get out of the present dilemma. The present situation is an impossible one. It is summed up by the remark heard so frequently, "This thing can't last," or groups of sellers, showing that their prices are going to be still higher, or men not doing the work they should do, of costs of construction being probably, when without construction we cannot make progress, of the cost of living being so high as to cause hardship to many perfectly respectable people who should be able to make a decent living without difficulty.Intelligent business men everywhere are seeking light on the prospects, consulting with each other, trying to get new viewpoints and determine how we are going to get out of the present situation and into a set of conditions in which we can be truly prosperous.Necessarily the working of economic laws will get us out, barring revolution and out-dogmatizing, into a state of emergency. It is especially inconceivable that such a thing can occur, so that one can ignore the technical explanation and proceed.The working of economic laws can be assisted by artificial means, and many might be employed if things were properly constituted by employing them, but that is not the case.
With the direction we had from Washington during the war, and the willingness we had to accept directions, a great deal could be accomplished,
but the wise men who went to Washington to help with the war have gone home, and the people would not do team work if the direction could be offered. There is one exception, the Federal Reserve Board, which is endeavoring to correct conditions. It is rather severely criticized in somequarters, but the board does not mind this, one point of its position being that there are certain things to be done, and if the responsibility were placed on the banks the position of some banks might be injuriously affected, while nobody is hurt when the criticism is directed at the board.It should be granted that we have the physical conditions for prosperity and advancement. Our soil, our mines, our factories are such as to enable us all to live comfortably and make progress. Yet we are not prospering, progressing or advancing. That is the case with the "average" individual, hence it is the case with the nation as a whole.The difficulty lies not with the physical condition but with the mental condition. It is a mental condition that needs to be corrected. Men must recognize that in these times, as was the case before the war, they must work hard in order to prosper. The operation of economic laws must always eventually produce this mental condition. One must remember that economic laws operate through the minds of men. There may be a quick or a slow mental response to the pressure of the economic law. If a factory is not "making good" by producing what it ought to produce at a fair cost the factory will eventually have to close, but the exact date of closing is set by one man or a group of men.An increasing number of men realize that one man's thought which the mental attitude would be corrected is through a period of illness and calm reflection, and there are many men who feel that the sooner the illness comes to those who need to have their mental attitudes corrected, the better.CARROLL NAMES DATES FOR TEACHER TESTS
IN FAYETTE COUNTYSeries Opens With Professional Examination in North Union High School on May 22.Dates for teachers examinations for Fayette county have been announced by County Superintendent
John S. Carroll as follows:Professionals—North Union high school, Saturday, May 22 and 23, 8 o'clock.Removal of professionals—North Lain high school, Saturday, May 20, 8 o'clock.Provisionals for normal students, day, June 17, 9 o'clock; North Union high school, Friday, June 18, 9 o'clock; Georgia township high school, Friday, June 25, 8 o'clock;

Dunbar township high school, Thursday, July 1, 8 o'clock.An examination will be held especially for applicants who have attended teacher training schools in the state normal schools, or in other higher institutions of learning, at the Dunbar borough high school, Tuesday,
August 10, 8 o'clock.Manuscript paper will be furnished.
Applicants will furnish pens, pencils, ink and blotting paper. Each substitute teacher must hold a valid certificate.
School directors are invited to attend examinations. All applicants must be at least 18 years old.Applicants for provisional certificates, who are not more than 40 years old, are required to attend school somewhere during the entire spring term. Exceptions will be made only for urgent reasons. The teacher who is too busy with other work to attend school, might be too busy with other work, to teach a good school, it is held.All applicants taking examinations for the first time will be required to certify to their age and attendance.All examinations in geography and history will, in part, be based on the geography and history of the World War.In order to be eligible to take the provisional examination, senior members of high schools will be required to attend school continuously from May 1, 1920, to the time of examination.

PLAYTIME.

The only real time for fun is when you know your work is done.
Who leaves neglected tasks behind him with him an uneasy mind.
But he can sleep in his bed and play who leaves the night rest and play.The sweetest hours of joy are those which every weary toiler knows—
The holidays which now and then shine through the lives of busy men.
When from care and duty a grind
they leave the daily tasks behind.There is no real joy in play
For him who knows that he should play
And keep his post, however great.
The pleasures he has none to meet.
Because forever on his mind
There lies the task he left behind.He only knows the thrill of fun
Who plays not until his work is done.
Then he may wonder fancy-free
And claim the joy, whatever it be,
Knowing the laughter and delight
Which come to him as he is right.God grant that when I come to rest
With life's care sinking in the west
And the last page calls blown
By duty's herald, I may own
The right to turn from toil and rest
Knowing that I have done my best.

NEWS OF THE DAY AT MT. PLEASANT BRIEFLY RELATED

Photographs of Company E Heroes Placed on Display.

WILL BE HUNG IN THE ARMOY

Included Are Likenesses of Captain James Zundell and Lieutenant William C. Stevenson; Indiana Girls Give Luncheon at McCree's.

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, May 18.—Michael Daniel Levinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Levinson, was tagged at the Memorial hospital here yesterday. Ray Bloom of Pittsburgh officiated. Among the out of town guests were Michael Levinson, Steubenville, O.; Daniel Levinson, Youngstown; David Ghik, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Goodman, Connelville; D. Cohen, Uniontown; and Charles Pross, Greensburg.

Photos of Dead in War.

The two photographs of Captain James Zundell and Lieutenant William C. Stevenson, killed in France during the World War, and the other members of Company E, 11th Infantry who gave their lives, namely, Robert Ramsay, Herbert Stuck, Fred Cree, Frank Foret, John Nesoda, Joseph Plovak, Albert Skiff, Floyd Brookman, Andrew Cruthers, Daniel Kelly, William Foose, Joseph Malek and Clifford Sheppard, have been put on exhibition in the drug store window of F. A. McIntire. These pictures will be hung in the state armory along with the bronze tablet that the former members of Company E are erecting as a memorial to their fellow soldiers who were killed in France.

Indiana Girls Dine.

A number of former classmates of Indiana Normal, including several Mount Pleasant girls, gave a luncheon at McCree's in the afternoon in honor of Miss Helen E. Martin of Wilkesburg, who has chosen June 19 as the date of her marriage to James Clinton McDougall of Seattle, Wash. The guests included Misses Emma Walton of Pittsburgh, Marie Harmon, Myrtle Hayes, Ohio Harmon and Ladybird Sipe of Mount Pleasant, Miss Beatrice Lohr of Latrobe, Miss Ruth Whitehouse of Vandergrift, Miss DeRose Caldwell of New Bethlehem and Miss Edith Martin of Wilkesburg. Miss Walton, entertained the same guests at her home street home in the evening.

Lawn Party.

Miss Viola Stevenson and Mrs. Archie Stevenson entertained the members of the Church street school building at Miss Stevenson's Eagle street home on Monday evening at a lawn party and dinner.

U. S. Social.

The Young People's society and orchestra of the United Brethren church held a very successful apron social at the church last evening. One cent was paid for each inch the guest measured around the waist. A very good program was carried out.

Personals.

Miss Opal Berthel has returned from Harrisburg, where she visited her brother, William Berthel.

Mrs. S. C. Stevenson left last evening for Philadelphia to attend the Presbyterian board of missions meeting.

Mrs. Carl Miller of Steubenville, O. is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller.

SPENDING AND EARNING

A Wonder of Finance Is Just as Plain as the Nose on Your Face.

If a man has an income of $50.00 a week, pretty good, isn't it, yet he will reach poverty, if he spends a dollar a week more than he receives. On the other hand if he saves a dollar a week, he will become rich. Deposit a dollar of your income with The Citizens National Bank, 133 Pittsburg street, Connelville, Pa.—Adv.

Confluence.

CONFLUENCE, May 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Silver, who were visiting friends here, have returned to their home in McKeesport.

L. J. Constance, a patient at the Frantz hospital for several weeks, is improving nicely.

Lloyd Youngkin of Pittsburgh is visiting his parents here.

Ray Show of Pittsburgh visited his parents here over Sunday.

R. B. Silbaugh of Johnson Chapel was a business visitor here yesterday. Leo Cronin of Connelville visited his parents here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jennings of Connelville have returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Frazer.

C. D. Berge of Pittsburgh visited his family here over Sunday.

Rev. H. C. Show of Johnson Chapel left Saturday for Chicago and Denver and other points in the west on a visit. He will be absent several weeks.

Mrs. Margaret DeBolt of Charles-ton was a visitor in town yesterday.

"Diamond Dyes"
Don't Spot, Run

Don't Risk Material in Poor Dyes that Fade or Streak

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can diamond-dye a new, rich, fast color into worn, shabby garments, draperies, coverings, whether wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods.

But "Diamond Dyes" no other brand—then perfect results are guaranteed even if you have never dyed before. Diamond has color card—Adv.

W. VA. OPERATORS FILE COMPLAINT ON CAR SHORTAGE

Ask Interstate Commerce Commission to Enter Preliminary Orders and Filing of Reparation Claims.

The Northern West Virginia Coal Operators' association has filed a complaint or petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Monongahela and Morgantown & Wheeling railroads, claiming that there was a shortage of empty cars of 110,438 between July 1, 1919, and March 1, 1920, at mines south of Brownsville.

The petition sets forth that if the complainants and other operators along the Monongahela railway and Morgantown & Wheeling railway received the same average percentage of placement at the mines as did the operators on the Pennsylvania railroad and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie north of Brownsville, 136,231 cars (instead of 110,438 cars, or a total of 25,883 cars) would have been received.

It is asked that the commission enter preliminary orders against the Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroads requiring them to furnish 100 per cent of the orders for cars placed by the Monongahela railroad until the aggregate shortage which occurred on the Monongahela railroad and Morgantown & Wheeling railroad has been made up.

The petition also prays that in case the commission decides the complainants are entitled to relief, they be permitted to file a statement of the names of the individual companies claiming reparation.

MIDDIES ARE IN WARM FAVOR

Garment is Comfortable and Pleasant, but Should Be Well and Correctly Made.

Nothing is so comfortable as a good old middy costume and nothing looks so well on a young girl. If the middy is correct in style. But the "fit" is very important. A badly cut, home-made looking middy is very poor style indeed and has a slovenly appearance that is depressing.

Some women can make presentable middy costumes on the home sewing machine, but it takes considerable skill. Careful tailoring must be put into such a costume—just as careful tailoring as would go into a cloth suit to be worn with one's best hat, white gloves and buttoned walking boots for a promenade on the avenue. Because a middy is a garment intended for informal wear, is no reason why it should have the lines and general effect of a negligee, or a hungalow apron—and too many home-built middy suits have just this effect. A really smart middy in the shops is not cheap, but the costume will endure a surprisingly long time and will come home from the cleaner's looking good as new. Middy suits are admirable for young girls and older women to wear for boating. They are not correct—on women over twenty-five years old—for country club wear or even for tennis or other outdoor sports, but a woman of forty may wear a middy on yacht or motor cruiser and be quite en regle.

Comfortable as the middy blouse is, it should not be affected by the housewife as an easy-to-work-in morning costume.

Wool Embroidery.
The fad for wool embroidery is resurged everywhere. Scarcely of merchandise necessitating a search in one art department for colors in another for needles, and another for patterns frequently discourages the shoppers and they abandon the attempt at handmade decoration altogether, says the Dry Goods Economist. Hat bands, ribbons, sashes, handkerchiefs, blouses, gowns, porch pillows and practically every article susceptible to embroidery are showing gay little flowers and all-over and conventional patterns done in wool.

Rheumatism
A Home Care Given By One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1931 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous health power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have tried it and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of curing your rheumatism, you may send "the price of it," one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

INDEPENDENTS TRY METTLE AGAINST WILSONITES TODAY

Only Drawback to Clash at Fayette Field is the Weather.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS

Everything was in readiness this afternoon when the Independents were to go into play the Wilson Stars at Fayette Field. The game was called for 5 o'clock, this to enable all an opportunity to see the team that is to represent this city in big time ball.

Practically every ball-tosser for miles-around was expected to be out to the field as they will all want, it seems, to play on Connellsville's big team. Newt Wilson has arrayed some classy players to oppose the new locals. His team is composed of the following: R. Wilson, short; Home Fisher, second; Clawson, left field; Cover, middle; Thomas, first base; Pasicki, right field; Rheback, third; Pritchard, catcher; Lohr, pitcher; Pritchard, pitcher. Wilson has in reserve Swope and King, pitchers, and Spittler, Philburn and "Pop" Francis, fielders. The Independents have not issued any list of players; as all that want to try for the team will be given an opportunity to show their ability.

The grounds have been laid out and seats erected. There is a new backstop. The only thing to prevent the fans enjoying a pleasant afternoon is the rain. Admission is free.

TROTTER DEFEATS LAMBERT

The Trotter team made a trip to Lambert yesterday afternoon and defeated the team of that place by the score of 5-4. It was one of the most closely contested games ever played by the Erie team. In the fifth the score was 2-2. In the seventh Lambert got two more runs, making it 4-2. In the ninth, Swope relieved Labiak and struck out the first three men up. In Trotter's last time at the bat, that team got three much needed runs, making out with one to the good.

KEYSTONE CLUB ORGANIZES

With The Courier giving baseball the impetus that it needed another team will now branch out. This is the newly organized Keystone club. The club will be managed by John DeTemple. It will play the Capitan Glass team at South Connellsville Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The roster of the team follows: Fred Danner, "Pep" Francis, George Jones, John Quinn, Bob Manohay, John DeTemple, Francis McCashin, William Adlers, "Skeeter" Rheback, Eddie O'Connor. DeTemple would like to arrange games with Trotter, Casey club and others. He can be addressed care Sligo mill.

BASEBALL CHURPS

If the predictions of Andy Thomas are true to form the Independents are in for a whale of a trimming. The odds, one will cover first base for the Wilson team this afternoon. Andy says he will live up to the reputation made in France as a first sacker.

All players are requested to be in uniform at today's game. The Wilson Stars will be out in all their glory—with uniforms of various colors and shapes. The Independents should not hold this team too cheap. If they do, blooey for some players.

The Independents will not have any regular pitcher on hand in today's game, as the big birds that will do the twirling for the locals will not be out until Saturday. They have invited a pitcher named Pat of Greensburg to come over to display his wares. Stewart Tencate, an Independent slink artist, may also appear.

We would not approve of Newt Wilson conspiring this game today as it's too near home for the old bird. Not that we insinuate anything, but you know how these things occur.

The Baltimore & Ohio divisional team has on display in Wertheimer's show window a hand bag valued at $82.50. They are selling chances on this high class bag, the proceeds to furnish the team with uniforms.

The fans should not overlook the fact that the fast Farbanks team of Pittsburgh is on the card to mingle with the Independents Saturday. This is the team of which Johnny Koest is the manager.

Following the example of the other teams the newly organized Keystone club will not arrange any games for Saturday at home. On account of this being the day that the Independents play.

If any one has any doubts about how strong baseball has a hold on the citizens of this city, he should spend an afternoon at Fayette Field.

A little chirp to add you all not to forget, that the Independents need a little more luck to square themselves with the contractor for the erection of these stands that you will use this season, and many more to come, out at Fayette Field. Don't you think it time now to kick in, being that the stands are finished.

TRACE AND FIELD

If perseverance counts for anything the students of Connellsville high school, who are plugging away every afternoon at Fayette Field to condition themselves, under the watchful eyes of Audrey Skomp, to get in scholastic field form for the meet at Pittsburgh on May 29 they should be, by all means, among the prize winners. It certainly is an inspiring sight to watch these boys drilling the track.

Coach Skomp thinks the team has a very good chance of winning some of the points. Even though they do not score a point, the experience they will get in their first trial at such meetings will stand them in good stead for future meets.

PRICE OF ATHLETIC GOODS DUE TO SOAR

Poor Man Is Barred From Privilege of Exercising.

Walking is Only Thing That Won't Cost More If It's Done in Bare Feet—Increase Hits Every Sporting Article in Sight.

Exercise is no longer a poor man's privilege.

Inquiry among leading sporting goods dealers showed that prices of all sporting goods are coming up this year.

The only thing that won't cost more is walking if you do it in your bare feet. Hiking shoes will cost from $10 to $15, an increase of 20 per cent.

The increase hits every sporting article in sight and even that which isn't. Athletic underwear is on the upward grade.

"There'll be twice as many baseball teams this year as last year," predicted an official of a big sporting goods house.

The only new frills in sports this year will be in golf. Bloomers for women and a new set of iron clubs which allow the golfer to hit the ball from any angle are being displayed. There are ten clubs to the set.

Swimming suits will be one-piece affairs this year—both for men and women. Men's suits will be the baggy affairs of old, but women will have a creation in color.

Under the new list of prices, just out, baseballs will cost 60 cents more. League balls will cost $2.50 apiece. Balls for sand-lot games will cost 60 cents. Baseball gloves will cost as high as $25. The cheapest will be $1—a boy's fielding glove. Baseball shoes which sold last year for $12 now cost $21. Chest protectors and masks have increased.

Golf clubs will cost $8 and upward, while the minimum charge for golf balls will be 60 cents.

Football, boxing gloves, weight exercisers, punching bags, basketballs and other sporting paraphernalia experience similar boosts in prices.

The increase is due to higher costs of labor and material, it was said.

MODERN PLAYER EXCELS

A group of Yankee players were talking to Joe Kelley, the scout, in his day one of the game's greatest outfielders and batter.

"Tell me, Mr. Kelley," said one, with real college diction, "is there any department whatever in which the modern player has it on the old-timers?"

"Only one," responded Mr. Kelley.

"And what is that?"

"Playing golf," was the answer of Mr. Kelley.

THIS STORE, we believe is the first in Connellsville to take cognizance of the national effort among merchants to bring down the cost of living. The movement is purely a voluntary sacrifice of the store's profit and this in view of steadily increasing manufacturers costs.

BY THE INCREASE in our volume of business we hope in a measure to make up, what is to us, as to every other legitimate merchant participating in this movement, a decidedly losing proposition. You will readily understand therefore why we must restrict this discount to cash sales only.

Further, by the wide scope of this movement it is hoped to bring about a break in the ever soaring manufacturing costs and force factories to lower prices. If this is accomplished, the merchants will have won the victory they have been striving for.

REDLEG PITCHERS HAND IVY WINGO FINE BOOST FOR PATIENT WORK BEHIND PLATE

Ivy Wingo, Cincinnati catcher, may not be regarded generally as a star receiver, but since Cincinnati won the National league flag and then copped the world's championship from the White Sox, he has two boosters who never pass up an opportunity to stir his praises. The boosters are Walter Ruether and Jimmy Ring, members of the Cincinnati hurling group.

Ring and Ruether both declared Wingo has been cheated out of his share of publicity for his work behind the bat. They say Ivy does not court publicity nor does he expect any, and consequently he is over-looked by the scribers.

Best Work Never Seen.

According to Ring, Wingo's best work is never seen by the fans because he is most valuable as a help to pitchers. "A pitcher never worries or frets in a critical situation when Ivy is behind the bat," he said "because Ivy knows how to encourage a man and dwarf the danger of the situation regardless of what it may be."

It seems Wingo is one of the prettiest few big league catchers who never seem to lose patience with a hurler, and when the hurler gets into a tight place Ivy tries to think of all the kind things he can say, instead of yelling at the pitcher and otherwise exhibiting a full grown peevish.

Praise From Toney.

Fred Toney of the Giants recently declared he never saw such a patient receiver as Wingo, and this confession was made before Ring or Ruether broke into print with a good word for Ivy. In every assignment in the recent world series Wingo acquitted himself with great credit, exhibiting a grand throwing arm directing his pitchers with rare judgment and responding with a wallop as often as such could be expected from the ordinary receiver.

Critics are all strong for Wingo because he never fusses about decisions. He fights for everything he thinks is his, but he withdraws from the battle when a verdict is rendered. Pat Moran has a pair of stars in Wingo and Ruether and a genuine corner in Allen who had little chance to show his ability last year.

QUITE LOGICAL

Manager Gabby Cravath was showing Walsh, a rookie outfielder, how to hit. A leftfielder was pitching and Gabby smashed the ball over the right field fence. Turning to Walsh, Gabby commanded:

"Now you do it."

"If I could but that way," returned the recruit, "I wouldn't be here looking for a job."

REAL GENIUSES NOT "QUEER"

For instance, Taking Insufficient Nourishment Cannot Be Taken as Mark of Brilliance.

The legend that Meredith lived on the contents of a sack of oatmeal while he wrote his masterpiece is pure myth, writes St. John Ervine in the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian. He was particularly addicted to the pleasures of the table and could not have written his books on a diet of oatmeal. His letters are full of references to food and wine and, like Doctor Johnson, he contemplated writing a cookery book. He had the capacity, which every man of genius has, of being highly interested in the most ordinary things.

It is your third-rate person who is not interested in food and drink and the common things of life. Your man of genius demands that these things shall be so attended to that he can appreciate them at their best. Moreover, since eating and drinking are necessary to all of us he wishes them to be done in such a way that he shall not be diverted from his job by complaints of the clumsy and insufficient arrangements for them.

Herbert Spencer complained of the stupid spouts that manufacturers put on jugs—so that it is impossible to pour liquid out of them without spilling it—and he went to the trouble to invent a paper fastener because he was dissatisfied with those in common use. A third-rate person would have been much too superior to think of such things.

ODD GIFTS FOR PRESIDENTS

Many and Various Tributes of Affection Have Been Received by Chief Executives.

Early presidents of the United States received strange gifts during their terms as executives, the strangest of them all being, perhaps, the cheese sent to Thomas Jefferson, with the admiring inscription, "the greatest cheese in America for the greatest man in America." It was conveyed to Washington by a six horse team. Jefferson insisted upon paying for it, and it lasted for a whole year.

Andrew Jackson was the recipient of such gifts as a whole hog from Kentucky, whiskey from Pennsylvania, beef from New York and a cheese that weighed half a ton or more from New England. The blue room in the White House contains the most famous of the gifts received by American presidents, the golden mantle clock presented to Washington by Lafayette, who received it from Napoleon. In the Green room is the Gobelin tapestry, made by a process which is now a lost art, which the Emperor of Austria gave Mrs. Grant.

Triumph of Art.

A young artist, out on a sketching trip, came across a living specimen of the "barefoot boy with cheek of tan," properly outfitted with red and string of fish and for a consideration induced him to pose for a sketch. In a few minutes there came along a man who would have been spotted instantly by a reasonably sophisticated observer as the head, theoretically at least, of a family. For half an hour he stood watching the artist work, then burst out in admiring enthusiasm:

"Well, sir, if that isn't wonderful! Beats all I ever saw!"

"Like the sketch, do you?" the flattered artist responded with a pleased blush.

"Sketch? Oh, that! Yes, it's all right, I guess. What I meant was the way you have managed to keep that boy quiet for so long!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hard to Combat.

A scientist said in a discussion of an anti-tuberculosis campaign:

"Ignorance—ignorance of hygiene—is our worst foe, and ignorance is very hard to combat."

I am reminded of a story about a scientist who once came upon an old flint-cutter digging flints from chalk. The scientist, remembering a superstition prevalent among flintcutters, said:

"Do you think flints grow?"

"I don't think nothing about it, sir," said the old man. "I know they grow."

"Well," said the scientist, "take a flint home, put it on your mantelpiece, and see how much it grows in a year."

"All right, sir," said the flint-cutter, and you do the same with a potato, and see how much it grows."

Service.

The man wished to spit, but it was a pay-as-you-enter bar and he was out of luck. He rang the bell, got up and went to the door of the bar. At the next corner the car stopped. The motorman opened the door for the man to get off, but he just spit and returned to his seat.

All the passengers heard the motorman say "And still some people have got the nerve to kick on the kind of service we put out!"—Indianapolis Star.

Merchants in the Philippines.

That a merchant does not need to have or retain a capital investment in an established business before he can be admitted to the Philippine islands is the gist of a decision handed down in the case of a Japanese merchant who sold his business and came to Manila for the purpose of engaging in business in the islands. He was denied admission by the customs authorities on the ground that he did not belong to this class of merchants exempted in the immigration laws.

Equip Your Smaller Car With Goodyear Tires

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or any other car using 30x3-, 30x3½-, or 31x4-inch tires, you can well take advantage of the high relative value built into all Goodyear Tires.

You can well do so because you can secure in the smaller Goodyear Tires the results of such skill and care as have made Goodyear Tires the preferred equipment on the highest priced automobiles of the day.

You can well do so because these smaller Goodyear Tires are easy to obtain, being produced at the rate of approximately 20,000 a day, and because their first cost usually is as low or lower than that of other tires in the same types and sizes.

Go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for these tires, and for Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. He supplies many other local owners of the smaller cars.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread... $23.50

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread... $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water-proof bag $4.50

BASEBALL STORIES

Funniest among the National league teams is attributed to the Reds.

The team that trains in Cuba next spring won't be troubled with hold outs.

Pittsburgh is hopeful for 1926. It's been a great year for all the other pirates.

The only thing that will save baseball is the development of young baseball players.

Columbus landed in 162. Cincinnati landed in 1915, and Cleveland is due to land in 1926.

Who knows is a dangerous hitter, particularly where there is a short right field fence.

Ray Fisher reported late at the training camp of the Reds and then developed a sore arm.

Monroe Ed Barrow of the Red Sox is said to have made Louisville an anti-Red Sox city.

Bob Davidson, let out as manager of the Cleveland team, was signed by Houston, with the title of scout.

Francis Baz, the former Pittsburgh pitcher, is being used at third by the Alton Internationals.

Kennedy Lee is going to make his first start for the Baltimore team at the Fort Worth club and looks as though he should be able to make the grade.

Nick Altrock, the Senators' clown, has a lot of new stuff this year and is ready to entertain the fans in great style.

Jack (Red) Murray, former National League outfielder, is going to manage a shop team at Kane, Pa., this year.

Columbia of the South Atlantic association, has signed Low Wendell, a catcher, formerly with the New York Nationals.

WEST POINT OFFICERS JUST BACK FROM FRANCE, RESUME TRAINING IN GEORGIA

The photograph shows a scene during a wrestling match, one of the strenuous and highly developed sports comprising the basic course in studies given to officers of the West Point class of 1921, who were graduated just before the signing of the armistice, and who had recently returned from the battlefields of France to resume their training at the infantry school at Camp Benning, Georgia.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The common things of life are all so dear. The morning's soft rays that through the leaves do shine. The morning's sun on glistening waves so clear. The clouds of gorgeous hues are mine and thine. —Edith Louise Farrell

ECONOMIES IN THE HOME

It hardly seems necessary to mention that four sacks of the large size may be bleached and used for various things. Open the seams and hem and you have fine dish towels. The small sized sugar sacks may be used to hold lettuce after it has been washed and is ready for the table. Put into the sack it may lay on the ice for holding herbs and dried seeds, for use in various ways.

Tea grounds make a fine brightener of carpets. Use them dampened with water, and sweep lightly with a broom. Old underwear makes fine wash cloths, and stockings of any kind or color, cut in strips and fitted into a mop, will answer, when treated with a good oil, as a dust mop.

When nuts are dry and tasteless breaking into bits when cracked, soak them for an hour or two in hot water before cracking. They will be like fresh nuts.

When a broom is worn on one side, dip it in hot soda on wash day and while soft and wet cut with a sharp hatchet or scissors.

Always mix such dry mixtures as cornstarch with sugar when making a sauce, as the sugar keeps it from lumping when the water is added.

Add a dash of salt to most fruits. It saves sugar and brings out the flavor. This is true of fresh or dried fruit.

When making a custard, cook it as usual if it is a boiled custard and take out a portion, to which may be added various seasonings liked in a salad dressing. The remainder may be sweetened and flavored and two dishes are ready with one cooking.

Stretching the meat flavor is a great economy. When preparing hamburger, add a cupful of cooked oatmeal, seasonings, and either cook it in a flat cake or small cakes. The cereal will not be noticed, and the dish will be truly satisfying. Any cereal such as rice or other cooked breakfast foods, may be used equally as well.

Missed His Step.

Orville Gault—It is my intention to marry your daughter, sir. I have considered the step I am about to take. Old Billyuns—You have, eh? Well, I have an idea you're going to take about eight steps without touching them.

An Appropriate Name.

Farmer Kornstet—Waal, it's too did you received the notice of my little darter's birth too late to put it in the paper. Sany, kin yer think of a good name for her?

Editor of the Stagtown Bugle—Sany: call her Ad. delayed.

Mean Thing.

Leading Lady—That fat comedian is just too impudent.

Understudy—What's he been up to now?

Leading Lady—A: he sang "Let Us Clank Ape'n Our Sparkling Glasses" he looked strangely at my diamonds.

Doesn't Believe This.

"Do you believe everything he says?"

"I used to, until he tried to tell me the other day that you couldn't lose any more money playing dollar-hunt, poker than you could playing 10-cent bill."

Happy Thought.

Dolly—Why one sends a parcel by express why do they always ask the name and address of the sender.

His Gentle Hint.

"Miss, does your car know?"

"Yes, but right now it's not very sure."

PLANT TREES ON SOIL WHERE YANKEES DIED

French Reforesting Devastated Districts With Seed From United States.

On the battlefields where American soldiers gave their lives when the call from humanity came, France is planting the seeds of life.

Expressing the gratitude of the minister of agriculture of France, Ambassador Jusserand reported to the American Forestry association the first steps taken to care for the seeds which the association shipped to France from Boston January 15, to help in reforesting the battle areas.

Upon arriving at Nancy the seeds were sent to the central warehouses of the forest school at Nogent sur Vesnison, Lorraine. In his report to the American Forestry association, Ambassador Jusserand said:

"Most of the seeds of Douglas fir will be sent to the departments of the Aisne, Oise, Ardennes and Somme for the reforestation of the regions devastated by war. The seeds of the leafy trees, such as oak, ash and poplar, will be sown this spring in the nurseries of the same school and that at Nancy. The minister adds an expression of his desire that his feelings of deep gratitude and those of the administration of waters and forests be conveyed to the American Forestry association."

"Thus in the years to come," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association, "America will have the finest of all memorials on the battlefields, where her sons answered the call of humanity—the living, growing trees of America."

LOSES HIS $15,000 FLAT

Business at Last Claims Building in Financial District.

The New York curb market is only a blur of red caps and black to the feeble eyes of the old man who sits all day at the window behind the old-fashioned Nottingham lace curtains at 62 Broad street.

Hiram Hildebrandt, is sixty-two years old, and long has ceased to take any interest in the turmoil of the great financial world that seethes at his feet. Business, which by some mischance had spared the little building all these years, now has claimed it for her own, and the Hildebrandts must move.

For all these residential advantages (to say nothing of the financial possibilities of the location) the Hildebrandts have been paying the astonishing sum of $10 a month. They have six large rooms and a glass covered court that makes an excellent clothes yard.

Hiram Hildebrandt rented the flat fifty years ago from Mayor Gunther. When the property passed into the hands of the Stevens estate Mr. Hildebrandt was retained as janitor, and so the rent never was raised.

The Hildebrandts were paying for 3,000 square feet, or what would command a rental of $15,000. Instead they paid $10.

L. L. Winkelman, a broker, recently became the owner of the $10 flat. When altered the property will be worth about $400,000.

SAYS HE'S NOT DEAD

Nebraska Youth Appears During Progress of His Funeral.

While his parents were attending his funeral in Johnston, Neb., Dewey Kinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kinney, walked into the police headquarters, in Sioux City, Iowa, and declared that he was not dead.

Kinney was reported shot and killed in a hold-up in South Sioux City, Neb., several days ago.

The body of a man believed to be Kinney was declared that of Sam Coriency, pal of a bandit suspect held in the city hall in Sioux City, Ia. The suspect declared Coriency was accidentally shot.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinney came from Johnston cemetery to Sioux City to meet their son. He is being held in jail as a material witness in the case against the bandit suspect.

He said he did not know he had been reported dead until he read a story of his supposed death in a newspaper in Nebraska.

PETAIN IS DEMOCRATIC

Refuses to Use Government Auto When Off Duty.

Marshal Petain is noted for his democratic habits and a story is just being told of him which illustrates this point while it brings into relief the way motor transportation was used by many American officers in France, says the Stars and Stripes.

The marshal was met in the Metro recently by Senator Stevens, of the Senate, who asked the marshal if his motor was broken down that he was riding in the Metro.

"My car," the marshal replied, "is intended for government service. When I go out on my own account I take a public conveyance in order to save gasoline and tires."

Just a Little Smile

Too Much.

De Sapp—Do you think that Miss Giever was having fun with me?

De Soft—Well, old chap, give me the details.

De Sapp—You see, I had my bull terrier with me. And I said to her,

"That dog knows as much as I do."

And she said, "Don't you think $4.50 was too much to pay for him?"

Between Actors.

First Actor—I had a quarrel with the manager this morning and threatened to leave the company.

Second Actor—Wasn't there any one to take your part?

First Actor—Yes, my understudy. That is why I didn't leave.

She'd Be Ill.

"What is the meaning of the vert to purchase?"

"Don't know, ma'am."

"Well, now, if your papa gave your mamma $30 to buy a new hat and dress what would she do?"

"Send me after the doctor, ma'am."

Great Idea.

Ernest—I've got a splendid system for preventing these numerous fatal accidents caused by deer hunters shooting each other.

Edith—What is it?

Ernest—Let only one man hunt at a time.

Pure Fiction Mostly.

"I see Sellen, the traveling salesman, has written a novel."

"I didn't know he had imagination enough for that."

"Tut-tut. He's been making out expensive accounts for 15 years."

Other People's Money.

"I knew that man when he didn't have a dollar he could call his own."

"Yes. He has gotten more nerve about calling things his own than he used to have."

His Rival.

Friend—You have been engaged for the last two years, and can well afford to marry. Why don't you do it?

Mr. Kisseem (gloumily): I am waiting for her pet dog to die.

She was troubled.

Mrs. A—Are you troubled much in your neighborhood with borrowing?

Mrs. E—Yes, a good deal. My neighbors never seem to have a thing I want.

Robust.

Cupid is a healthy pet.

As rugged as an old

He wears no clothes whatever. Yet he never catches cold.

Far From Divine.

Cholly—I understand your sister plays the piano divinely.

Fredde—Well, not if you can judge by the language do neighbors use when she plays.

A Profitable Benefit.

First Actor—How did your benefit come out, old man?

Second Actor—First rate. After I'd paid the expenses I found I was three laund wretches to the good.

Light on a Dark Subject.

Council—It was pitch dark, you admit. Then how could you see the prisoner, I would like to know?

Witness—Oh, very easily. Don't you observe that he is lantern-jawed?

Record Was Known.

"I have something I want to say to you alone."

"How can you say it to me alone when you've said it to every girl you know already?"

A Guess.

School Teacher—Tommy, what is the feminine corresponding to the masculine "tag?"

Tommy (whose mother is a society leader)—Afternoon tea, ma'am.

Sat Down Hard, Too.

The Englishman—The sun never sets on British territory.

The American—No; but the Goddess of Columbia did it twice, though.

Had No Voice.

First Vocal Teacher—Are you cultivating Miss Goltz's voice?

Second Vocal Teacher—No; her imagination.

Wanted the London Cut.

"But, my dear boy, why do you go to this beastly cheap tailor?"

"One of my dearest friends, old chap, My former tailor made my clothes as so uncommonly well that I couldn't look English to save me soil."

Put an Injunction On It.

Mrs. Bordelhouse—Why won't you have some soup Mr. Skinnie? It will not hurt you.

Mr. Skinnie—I'm afraid of it, ma'am. I think it should be restrained.

CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Why The Chandler Holds Its Leadership

THE Chandler car has attained and held its place of leadership among all sixes, by steadfast pursuance of worthy policies.

There is but one Chandler car, one Chandler chassis. To that chassis, for seven years, have been devoted the ambitions and the engineering ability and the sincere purposes of its builders.

Featuring this sturdy chassis is the famous Chandler motor, brought to a plane approximating perfection through these years of refinement and development.

Nearly eighty thousand Chandler owners know the excellence of this motor. They know its power, and the flexibility of its power. They know its endurance. They know its economy. They know it affords all the speed that any responsible driver would ever wish or dare to use. They know that on mountain roads it leads the way up.

On this one chassis are six handsome and comfortable types of body, built by America's best body-builders and splendidly finished and cushioned.

THE HESSIAN FLY.

(National Crop Improvement Service.) DAMAGE from this source is great in many localities and the acreage being lost than last year, a substantial reduction in the yield of winter wheat may be expected. This will be a good opportunity for spring wheat farmers to make a good profit.

The wheat left over from the 1919 crop is mostly winter wheat, and there is a great demand at a very liberal price for spring wheat of the best quality.

The Hessian fly does not attack spring wheat because there is no opportunity for it to complete its life cycle. The next outbreak in winter wheat will be in April, but nothing can be done to escape its ravages until plowing time.

OLD CY YOUNG IS ONLY MAN IN DIAMOND HISTORY TO WIN 500 BASEBALL CONTESTS

In all baseball history only one man ever won more than five hundred games. And that star of stars was Cy Young, who garnered a total of 508 victories in 1887 games during his 22 years as a big leaguer. His yearly average was 23 victories against 15 defeats for a percentage of .606. During all the years of Young's career—his novice days, his prime and his waning power—he struck out an average of three men per game and yielded only about 1 1/2 passes.

Mathewson's Record. Christy Mathewson alone challenged the supremacy of Young—but the mighty "Big Star" fell far short of the record of the veteran of bygone days. Mathewson lasted only 17 years as a twirler, during which time he scored 372 victories. His yearly winning average was 22 victories against 11 defeats for a mark of .664. In all those 17 years Mathewson issued only 717 bases on balls in 625 games—a showing that eclipses anything ever exhibited.

Looking back over the records for the three best consecutive seasons shows that Joe Wood is the percentage leader and that Walter Johnson and Cy Young are tied in the matter of total triumphs during such a period. Wood during 1912, 1913 and 1914 won 54 out of 57 games for the remarkable average of .906. His yearly showing was 19 victories against 4 defeats. Second place in the percentage ranking belongs to Chief Bender, who, from 1909 to 1911, inclusive, won 59 out of 77 games for a mark of .766. The three best years that Cy Young ever knew were 1891, 1892 and 1893. He won 97 and lost 40 games in that period. Walter Johnson tied Young in winning 87 clashes in 1912 and 1914. But the showing of Johnson surpasses that of Young because while Cy was losing 40 games Walter dropped only 38. Walter's average for the three years was 729. Young's was 664.

Won 90 Games. In addition to Young and Johnson only three other pitchers ever won 90 or more games for three straight seasons. Those men are Mathewson, Alexander and Jack Chesbro the famous Yankee pitcher of years ago.

Chesbro, by winning 51 games in 1904, set the mark that no one has been able to fracture since that time. Ed Walsh made a desperate effort to beat out Chesbro in 1908, but 40 victories was the best he could do. Christy Mathewson, with 37 victories in 1908, made the best National league showing since 1906.

BASEBALL STORIES

Outside of the catching department, the Pirates don't look half bad.

Babe Adams looks as good as ever, and that is saying considerable.

Pitching is always a gamble, but a bet on the Cleveland staff this year is a good bet.

Bobby Ruth seems to be happy in his new surroundings with the Washington team.

A star catcher is just as necessary to a ball club's well being and progress as a clever pitching staff.

The Boston Red Sox are still in a rut. The sale of Ruth to the Yankees didn't help a bad situation any.

John Kelleher, shortstop for the St. Joseph team of the Western league, will manage the team this year.

The Cleveland Indians have graduated so many players to the Indians that it may be called Tris Speaker's farm.

Indefinite Goldie Rapp of the Cincinnati National league team has been sold to St. Paul, American association.

Jimmy Burke has a peppery bunch of Brownies to start off another season, but he hasn't strengthened to any extent.

Cleveland fans believe that this is Cleveland's year and decline to change the view because the Yankees grabbed Babe Ruth.

The cellar was never a very popular position for a baseball team to occupy, but we presume it will be different this year.

Pitcher Ad Lynch, formerly of Washington, who refused to play with Wichita this year, has been transferred to Des Moines.

Rube Bressler though showing good form in a couple of essays, is getting back to pitching form after a season spent in the outfield.

The Phillies will need Cravath's hitting this season, and it will not be surprising if the boss of the Phils decides to go to right field.

The Giants say they have the batting, and given the right kind of pitching, they will romp home a winner of the National league pennant.

Jesse Haines making his bow as a Cardinal before the home fans established himself as a twirler who should be a great help to Rickey's team.

George Whitted's work at the "hot corner" is proving satisfactory to the Pirates boss. Dreyfuss says that his playing is improving with each game.

Dave Robertson has been showing his normal speed this spring and hasn't been bothered with the weak leg which slowed him up last season.

The Boston Red Sox had an idea they could buy several stars with the money received for Babe Ruth. It was a great idea, and it's still a great idea.

Fans at Kansas City are trying to dope out a shorter name for William de Cossaucourt, the big right-handed pitcher from Canada, who has joined the Blues.

Otis Tucker, the Kansas City youngster, who is making a good showing, weighs 215 pounds, and is fast on his feet, too. He will be kept as utility outfielder.

Marty Kavanagh, who is the property of the Brewers, will play with an independent team in Brooklyn, managed by Jeff Tesreau, former Giant hurler.

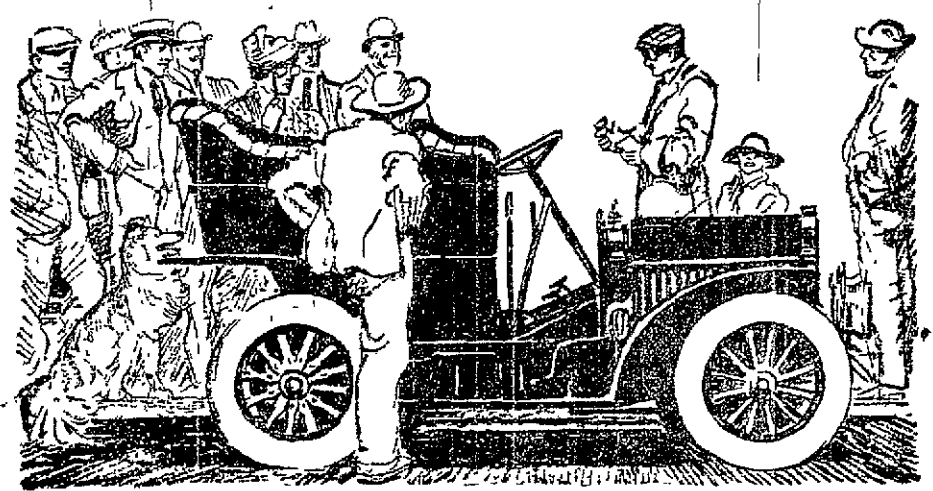

More than fifty amateur baseball teams will be playing in Memphis this summer under the direction of the M. A. A. of which Billy Hantz, boxing promoter, is director.

Outfielder Williams of the Fort Worth club bats left-handed, the only reason why, according to wise baseball men in Texas, he was not purchased by some major league club last season.

Tris Speaker says that the greatest handicap under which the Indians are working is that all the writers are picking them to win the pennant.

Pitcher Bill Ryan, formerly of How Owsas, has made a brilliant showing with the Giants and will most likely win a permanent berth with McGraw's team.

Pat Moran says that he will make no changes in the lineup of the champion Reds this season. "The team is good enough as it stands," he declares.

They used to call a man a "sport" when he bought an automobile

THAT was before the days when pretty nearly everybody owned one—or could, if he wanted to.

There was a lot of waste about motoring in those days. A man spent a lot of money on his car and never thought very much about what he was getting in return.

When a man buys a tire nowadays he has a pretty definite idea of what he expects to get out of it.

The dealer who sells him one that gives him less than he expects isn't likely to get any more of his business.

That's one of the reasons why we handle U. S. Tires—and recommend them to the motorists of this community.

The U. S. reputation for quality is not built on any one tire.

There is not one standard for large U. S. Tires and another standard for small ones.

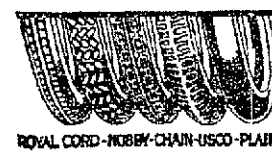

Every tire that bears the name "U. S." is built the best way its makers know how to build it. The oldest and largest rubber concern in the world cannot afford to play favorites in seeking its public.

Come in and tell us what you are looking for in tires.

We can probably tell you whether you need a U. S. Nobby, Chain, Usco, Plain, or a Royal Cord.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cord.

MOST UNIQUE STRIKE

But Fisher made, perhaps, the most unique strike ever seen on the bowling alleys of the Chicago Cubs. Fisher rolls with terrific speed, which accounted for the freak. He cut the ball loose and it hit a little to the left of the center pin, leaving No. 5 standing. One of the pins flew clear to the pit, hit the wall, caromed off the wooden side of the alley and hit the loose pin standing. When the game finished the pin boy remarked: "The sho' glad that big red-headed man is done finish, 'cause if he ain't I is."

BAR GELDINGS FROM BIG RACING STAKES

Expected to Increase Number of Horses for Breeding.

Present-Day Demand for Stallions Needed at Remount Stations is Insistent—Purchase of Good Animals is Difficult.

The fact that geldings will be ineligible for some of the most valuable racing stakes of the future, is expected to increase the number of horses for stud purposes in the United States. While there is a strong undercurrent against this movement to bar the gelding from some turf classics, nevertheless the plan has the support of many progressive turfmen, who believe that, while the gelding has his sphere in racing, he has no right to participate in the greatest of tests which are given for the guidance of the breeders of the country.

The gelding is unknown in many foreign countries, and some years ago, when C. K. G. Billings' champion trotter Urban, 1:58 1/4, was shown in Russia, the breeders of that country were indignant at his spallation and wanted to know who had dared to deprive future generations of the qualities of such a splendid horse. Stallions and mares work in the same teams the rear round in Russia. Usage has made the mares tractable and it is a rare thing to find a vicious horse.

The present-day demand for stallions of the type needed at the remount stations of the federal government is insistent, and members of the commission having in charge their selection are unceasing in their search for the right type.

The fact that there has been but little money available for the purchase of good horses has made the task of the commission exceedingly difficult, and most of the best horses secured to date have been gifts from breeders and turfmen in sympathy with the movement to improve remounts, and also from the Jockey club, whose chairman, August Belmont, gave the nucleus of what is now the Front Royal Stud in Virginia. Given an appropriation such as Count Lehuorff of the Royal Prussian Stud had at his disposal and the result would be easy, as there are no set racing every day on metropolitan courses that would be ideal for the purpose. It is related that the count, while on a visit to England, saw the famous sprinter Lordship in action with big weight up. "That's the horse to give you German

BAN JOHNSON BEHIND PLATE

Chief Executive of American League Once Caught Game for Semi-Professional Team.

To look at Big Ban Johnson today one would not believe that somewhere back in dark ages the American league president was a ball player and a catcher at that. Ban can remember the time, when all ball players were looked upon with suspicion. His parents objected to his indulging in the pastime, but he nevertheless did catch for his college team.

One day a semi-pro team in his town needed a catcher badly. Its regular backstop had been injured and Ban sneaked out of the house to help his friends. Everything was lovely until a foul tip broke one of his fingers. He joined the ranks of the voluntarily retired players then and there.

SANDLOTS FURNISH STARS

Mordecai Brown, Former Cub Pitcher, Says College Boy is at Big Disadvantage.

The boy from the sandlots makes a better ball player than the college youth, according to Mordecai Brown, the one-time three-fingered pitching marvel of the Chicago Cubs. "If I were to select one of two players of equal ability—one of them a boy off the sandlots and the other a college star—I would take the sandlot youth every time," says Mordecai. "I do not mean to depreciate the ability of college players. Some of the really big men of the game have been developed by the colleges. But it has been my observation, both while in the major league and since leaving it, that the college player is at a disadvantage."

"This, I believe, is due to the fact that many of them have not been up against the world. They cannot give and take as the player who has had his start in semipro baseball."

The Polo association has added an army representative to its executive board in order to aid in promoting the sport in the United States army. Col. William Lasser is the first delegate thus honored.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arceine mixed with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clear and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

THE PARAMOUNT

"TARNISHED REPUTATIONS"
Starring Dolores Costello in the role of Helen Sanderson, a convent-trained girl who lives in a village with her aunt, is being presented today. She meets a young artist from the city named Robert Williams, and during the course of their friendship poses for a painting, called "The Saint of the Lilies". The two are strongly attracted to each other, but just as the painting is finished the artist is called to New York hurriedly.

Helen reads his farewell letter tearfully, thinking the parting is final. But her aunt dies and she reads in a newspaper of her artist friend's success with "The Saint and the Lilies". She resolves to go to the city and appeal to him to help her. When she arrives at Williams' home a party is in progress, and, after one look through the windows, she turns away with a sore heart. In time she meets Williams again. She at first snubs him, but later they find happiness.

THE SOISSON

"HER FIVE-FOOT HIGHNESS"
Starring Edith Roberts, the Universal star, is today's feature attraction.

In this story of a Texas girl who discovers she is heiress to an estate and title across the sea, Miss Roberts has excellent support from Harold Miller, as a young Englishman; Leonard Calhoun, as the ranch foreman; Katherine Kirkham, as a naughty English society woman; Rudolph Christians, as the family barometer; Leota Lorraine, as a girl from the London Gaieties; Ogden Crane, as a shy lawyer; Stanhope Wheatcroft, as a British top; and a host of other clever players.

Harry Franklin, who directed the story, is to be given credit for a delightful treatment of this unique plot, blending the rough diamonds of a Texas ranch with the polished actions of British nobility in a manner that results only in the best assured humor. As for Miss Roberts, the spectator leaves the theatre wondering whether she is sweetest as a rough-riding cowgirl or as a fashionably gownned society queen.

MANY IRISH NAMES IN CUBA

Signs on Some of the Most Noted Havana Streets Reflect a Transplanted Aristocracy.

There are many curiously named streets in Havana, but perhaps the interest of the tourist is no other way so pleasantly excited as when he sees the name O'Reilly attached to one of the old thoroughfares. The cognomen surely has suggestion of Castilian origin, remarks the New York Evening Post.

Despite the name, the man for whom O'Reilly street, or to give it its Cuban title, Calle O'Reilly, is called, was a Spanish subject bearing the title of count, and he was one of the first of the long line of captains general who ruled Cuba for a period of 80 years. His ancestors left their native hearth after the battle of the Boyne, migrating to Spain, where they were enabled for services to the crown.

Although an aristocrat, the first O'Reilly was not averse to becoming a money-maker. He engaged in the not very poetic monopoly of delivering beef from the slaughter houses to the various markets, which monopoly was handed down for several generations from father to son.

O'Donnell is another Irish name inscribed on street signs, and it is written in great letters on the lighthouse of Moro castle, which lighthouse O'Donnell was instrumental in building.

ing. O'Reilly is an Irish-Spanish name connected with the governmental and commercial life of Cuba of the past, as is also that of O'Lawlor. These men had titled prefixes which were bestowed because of military or civil service, or which they bought outright after the custom of the time.

HEARD OWN BURIAL SERVICE

Dying Millionaire Had What Might Be Called a "Rehearsal" in His Bedroom.

When Mr. Parker Mason, a shrewd and level-headed millionaire of the United States, was on the point of dying a few years ago he conceived the quaint idea of having a rehearsal of his own funeral service in his bedroom. He called in a Presbyterian minister, and a few members of the church choir, and the full service was rehearsed in his presence and that of his family and a number of his friends. The clergyman preached an eloquent and touching sermon on the virtues and charities of the dying man, and the choir sang appropriate hymns. At the conclusion of the service, which the millionaire had followed with the closest interest and attention, he warmly complimented both clergyman and choir on their performance, and after dismissing them sent for an undertaker and made the necessary arrangements with him and had a personal interview with the pall-bearers. He died ten hours later, and was buried with the same service to which he had listened when alive.—Montreal Herald.

Where the Fault Lay.

As the Irish police recruit strolled along on his first turn of night duty, loud yells of "Fire" rent the air. He bolted quickly to the spot, and found a house well alight, with a man half hanging out of an upstairs window. "Help! Help!" he yelled. "If I jump, will you catch me?" "Sure, an' Oi will!" replied the policeman.

Egyptian Women Prospering.

The felicheen of Egypt, for centuries the most ignorant and improvident of serfs, has ridden into prosperity on the tidal wave of reconstruction, and with him his long-suffering wife. Still, as in the days of Christ, one may see him on his donkey, while his wife, with her heavy burden on her head, trudges behind. Yet there is a real, if invisible change in their relations.

Through the sudden rise in the price of cotton from $20 to $100 a bunter since the beginning of the war, the housewife has been enabled to make long-neglected purchases and has been enabled to display her native shrewdness in bargaining and financial matters. It is she who markets all the products of the farm.

Guns on Airplanes.

One of the inventions of the great war was the art of shooting a machine gun through the propeller of an airplane without danger of hitting the propeller blades. The French aviator, Roland Garros, was reported to be the first man to employ this device, which was used by hundreds of air fighters throughout the war. Before that time the machine gun was mounted above the aviator so as to fire over the propeller blades. Machine guns may also be mounted in a revolving turret or in the rear of the airplane. The Frowning machine gun will fire 20,000 shots at the rate of 600 per minute.

Why the Gainaday Stays Sold

1. The Gainaday Wringer is the strongest and sturdiest of any wringer in use today. Swings to any position and stays there rigidly. Built of maple. Rubber rolls are of finest quality.
2. Zinc Cylinder, perforated with hundreds of holes. Fitted with five baffle boards which gently, but firmly surge the clothes up and down through the hot rods. Sets several inches above the tub-bottom, permitting heavier dirt sediment to drop below, insuring cleaner water next to the clothes. Light in weight; will not corrode.
3. Cylinder Door always at top when cylinder stops. Stays firmly in position until released.
4. Copper Tub will not rust. Built of finest metal, beautifully finished; wear-proof.
5. Threaded Drain Spout permits use of hose. Located high enough to allow pail to be placed under it.
6. 1/4 H. P. Motor is strong enough to operate washer and wringer at same time.
7. Cup in which vaseline, placed every three months, keeps motor in efficient operation.
8. Double Swivel Castors permit the Gainaday to be pushed around with one hand.
9. Safety Release on Wringer is the best known; responds to light touch.
10. Wringer Gear-Case Handle starts, stops or reverses the wringer rolls, on the instant.
11. Safety Catch holds wringer rigidly to prevent swiveling back.
12. Handy Switch Button is a great Gainaday convenience.
13. Control Lever conveniently starts and stops cylinder. Cylinder always stops with lid up.
14. Lever which secures wringer in any position desired.
15. Strong Gear Case houses the Gainaday reversing mechanism. Grease proof; no chance for it to soil the clothes. Strong and compact.
16. Automatic Friction Drive Shaft prevents motor from burning out. When load on washer or wringer is too heavy, this remarkable device stops the operation at once.

BEGINNING today and working until Wednesday of next week the shareholders of the Connellsville Oil & Drilling Company, along with several business men of this city will try to see every one possible and give all the opportunity to invest in the unsold portion of the company's shares. It will be impossible to see every one as is desired and it would be well for those that find it convenient to phone their subscriptions to the company's office, Title & Trust Building, or call in person at McDonald's Music Store, or 301 Title & Trust Building, where they will receive their allotment. We make this suggestion as the unsold portion of the company's shares is limited and the men back of the company are anxious that it may not be said that anyone did not have an opportunity to get in or that control was in the hands of a few men.

The Company's assets are conservatively estimated at ten thousand dollars in equipment alone, which is approximately one fifth of the capital stock paid in, or $2 a share. In case the wells should prove to be non productive a pro rata distribution of the assets will be made.

This development of what appears to be a field favorable for exploitation is in fact a community enterprise. If it succeeds it will tend to enrich every property-holder in the community and it will give Connellsville a new life. Aside from the chance for success, it is good civic business to assist in making this development. The Capitalization is very low, and even a small shareholder will find his investment surprisingly profitable should oil or gas be found. No man can tell in advance what is in the depth of the ground, but millions have been made by investing in the hidden wealth of the mine and the well. Because of the low capitalization of the Connellsville Oil & Drilling Company, only fifty-five thousand dollars being issued, the discovery of oil or gas east of the city would be a money maker to every man holding even a very few shares of stock at the par value of ten dollars a share.

First Lassie and Second Convert Still in Salvation Army Service

Commandant Emma Westbrook, Seventy, Sole Survivor of First Band of Salvation Lassies to Land in U. S. (Inset) Louis Petain, Sixty-seven, Second Convert of Salvationists in this Country.

VETERANS both, Commandant Emma Westbrook, of Indianapolis, 70, member of the first contingent of Salvation Army lassies to invade this country, and Sergeant-Major Louis Petain, 67, of Brooklyn, second convert made by the struggling little band in America, will be active workers in presenting The Army's 1920 appeal for support for its Home Service Fund to be made throughout the country May 10 to 20.

These two workers have seen the organization grow from the veriest tyro in the field of service and relief in 1880 to the powerful influence that it is today. They have never left its service and entertain no thought of doing so. They want to help raise the $10,000,000 necessary to carry the work through another year.

Their enthusiasm is boundless, as it will be in people who have seen such an insatiable beginning in the face of feeling and antagonistic crowds result in the universal respect and love held for The Salvation Army today.

The difference in the figure of the coming appeal and in the mile collected in their tambourines in the old days, demonstrates concretely the difference that 40 years have brought.

Louis Petain is particularly jubilant over the transformation that he has seen and remarks epigrammatically, "You can't buy confidence, sonny. You've got to earn it." Commandant Westbrook is a travelling inspector of corps in Indiana, while Sergeant-Major Petain is still an active worker with the Brooklyn Post No. 1.

"Ash Bared Jimmy," the Army's first American convert, died a few years ago. He was "sentenced" to serve six months with The Army by an exasperated judge who had given up hope of reforming the drunken "remittance man." Jimmy decided voluntarily to make it a life sentence and stayed with the organization until his death. He attained the rank of captain and served others as the Salvationists before had served him.

The Strange Case of Cavendish

By RANDALL PARRISH

Author of "The Devil's Own," "My Lady of the North," etc.

(Copyright, by Riall Parrish)

"No firing!" the voice was Mendez's, rising sharply above the other sounds. "I don't want the girl shot; you fools! Take that other log around to the window. They'll surrender fast enough once we're inside. Now, another one. Here, five of you swing her!"

With a crash the remaining wood gave way, the end of the log, used as a battering ram, projecting into the room. Over the shattered door, now held open by one bent hinge, a half-dozen forms swarmed inward, the quick rush blocking their passage.

Cavendish pulled trigger, the deep boom of his shotgun echoed instantly by the sharper report of the girl's revolver. She fired twice before the swirling smoke obstructed the view, conscious only that one man had leaped straight into the air and another had sprawled forward on hands and knees.

Cavendish pushed home a fresh cartridge and the smoke cloud lifted just enough to permit them to perceive the farther doorway. A Mexican lay curled up in the center of the floor, his gun a dozen feet away; another hung dangling across an overturned stool, but the opening was vacant. Just outside a fellow, wounded, was dragging himself out of range.

"Great Scott!" exclaimed Cavendish, excitedly. "Every shot counted. Here, load up quick. They'll try the window next. Get down!"

The warning was not an instant too soon, the heavy volley largely thudding harmlessly into the thick mattress, although a bullet or two sang past and found billets in the legs behind. Cavendish returned the fire, shooting blindly into the smoke, but the girl only lifted her head, staring intently into the smother, until the cloud floated away through the door. The attackers had again vanished, all semblance of them, except those two motionless bodies.

"Looks as though they had enough of it," he said grimly, "and have decided to starve us out."

"Oh, do you think so? I heard a noise then."

He heard it also, his glance returning instantly to the front, his form stiffening into preparation. For a moment neither could determine the meaning of the sounds. Then he cocked his gun, the sharp click echoing almost loudly in the stillness.

It Was Done So Quickly. Neither Fired.

"Trying the window this time," he murmured. "Do you hear that? Be ready."

The two knelt motionless, peering over the edge of the bed into the dim twilight, seeing nothing, each with finger on trigger—tense, expectant. Then, without warning, the flying figure of a man leaped across the doorway into the security of the opposite wall. It was done so quickly neither fired, but Cavendish licked his parched lips with a dry tongue.

"I'll get the next one who tries that trick," he muttered. "I will be easier than partridge shooting."

A minute—two passed, every nerve on edge; then a second flying form, almost a blur in the gathering gloom, shot across the narrow opening. The shotgun spoke, and the wildly leaping figure seemed to crumple to the floor—its lower half had reached shelter, but head and shoulders lay exposed, revealing gray hair and a white mustache. Cavendish sprang erect, all emotion forgotten.

"It's Mendez," he cried. "I got the arch-dead of them."

A rifle cracked and he went plunging back, his body striking the girl, and grabbing her to the floor beside him. There was no cry, no groan of agony, yet he lay there motionless. She crept across and kneeled over him, almost dumb with fear.

"You—you are shot!" she made herself speak.

"Yes, they've got me," the utterance of the words a struggle. "It's here in the chest; I—I don't know how bad; perhaps if you tear open my shirt, you may find the blood."

She could say nothing, not even the man's name, yet her hands ran the shirt-sleeves and searched for the wound. It was not bleeding freely, and she had no water, but not knowing what else to do, she tore a strip from her skirt and bound it hastily. He never moved, or spoke, and she bent her head closer. The wounded man had lost consciousness.

Alone, in the dark, she crept on her knees to her place behind the barricade. Her hand touched the empty gun, he had dropped, and she reloaded it slowly, only half comprehending its mechanism. The revolver, every chamber filled, rested on the upturned edge of the bed; her lips were firmly pressed together. Quietly she pushed forward the barrel of the shotgun, and waited.

CHAPTER XIII.

A Needle in a Haystack.
The little marshal of Haskell had the reputation of being as quick of wit as of trigger finger. Started as he was by that sudden apparition appearing before them in the dark road, and at being addressed by a woman's voice, the mention of the name Cassidy gave him an instant clue. There was but one Cassidy in camp, and that individual's reputation was scarcely of a kind to recommend him in the eyes of the law. If any woman sought that fellow in this out-of-the-way spot, it was surely for no good purpose. Brennan leaned forward over his saddle horn, lowering his voice confidentially, and managing to achieve a highly meritorious brogue.

"Sure, O'm Cassidy," he admitted grudgingly. "How iver come yer tar guess that?"

"Enight weren't you? That was what Bill Lacy told you. He was to explain to you just what you were to do."

Brennan mumbled something indistinctly, now thoroughly aroused to the situation.

"Well, Mr. Enright couldn't come, and Lacy is over across the creek yet, hunting down Ned Beaton's murderer. I am Miss La Rue," she hurried on, almost breathlessly, "and I've brought you Lacy's note, which you are to give to that Mexican—Pascual Mendez. You understand? You are to give it to him, and do one else. Lacy said you could kill your horse, if necessary; but the note must be there by daylight tomorrow. Here—take it."

Brennan thrust it into an inner pocket, and cleared his throat. There was no small risk in asking questions, yet, unless he learned more, this information might prove utterly useless. The note to Mendez meant little until he discovered where that bandit was to be found.

"Shure now, miss," he said instinctively. "Mr. Lacy must have s'it more instructions along with ye than them. All the word that I've come for me was to ride saddle up, ride down here, and make this man Enright. I don't even know for shure what of Mendez is—likely 'ough he be in Mexico."

"In Mexico?" indignantly. "Of course not. Lacy said you knew the trail. It's a place they call 'Sunken valley'—out there somewhere, and Brennan could barely distinguish the movement of her arm downward.

"It's across that sand flat," "Shoshone?"

"Yes, I couldn't remember the name. That's all I know about it, only Lacy said you'd been there before."

"Shure, miss," assured the marshal softly, clearly realizing that he had already gone the limit, and that any further questioning must lead inevitably to trouble. "If it is Sunken valley I'm ter-ride ter-thet's ally."

"Then it's good night."

She vanished up the side trail, as though the wind had blown away a shadow. Brennan gathered up his reins, straightening his body in the saddle. He glanced back toward the dim shade of his companion, "Shuckling."

"Some bit of luck that Jim," "Doesn't seem to me we know much more than we did before," Westcott answered gloomily. "Only that this chap Mendez is at a place called 'Sunken valley.' I never heard of it; did you?"

"No; I reckon it's no spot the law has ever had any use for. I've supposed all along them Mexican cattle thieves had a hide-out somewhere in this country, but nobody has ever found it yet. Right now, thanks to this Miss La Rue, I've got a hunch that we're goin' to make the discovery, and get Bill Lacy and ol' Mendez out of business. But there's no sense of our guessin' here. We got a right smart bit o' ridin' to do afore day-light."

"How about the note she gave you?" "We'll wait a while to read that. I don't want to strike no light just yet. Maybe it had best be kept till day-break."

The men rode steadily, and mostly in silence, a large part of the way side by side. The animals they bestrode were fairly mated, quite capable of maintaining their gait for several hours, and needing little urging. The night gloom enveloped them completely; their strained eyes were scarcely able to trace the dim outlines of the ridge road, but the horses were desert broke, and held closely to the beaten track. Then Westcott's pony, which carried by far the heavier load, began to show signs of fatigue. They drew up, and the marshal dismounted, searching about blindly in the darkness.

"Too dark," he said, coming back, and catching up his rein. "A cat couldn't find anything there; but here's firm sand. Wait a minute; I've got a pocket compass."

He struck a match, sheltering the spluttering blaze with one hand. The light illumined his face for an instant, and then went out, leaving the night blacker than before.

"That's north," he announced, snapping the compass case shut. "and this blawze wind is southeast; that ought to keep us fairly straight."

"The ponies will do that; they'll keep where the traveling is good. Shift this bag back of your saddle, Dan. You ride lighter, and my horse is beginnin' to pant already; that will ease him a few pounds."

The transfer was made, and the two men rode out into the rear desert, urging their animals forward, trusting largely to their natural instinct for guidance. They would follow the hard sand, and before long the scent of water would certainly lead them directly toward the spring.

Yet it was not long until dawn began to turn the desert gray, gradually revealing its forlorn desolation. Westcott lifted his head, and gazed about with wearied eyes, smacking still from the whipping of the sand-grit. On every side stretched away a scene of utter desolation, unrelieved by either shrub or tree—an apparently endless ocean of sand, in places leveled by the wind, and elsewhere piled into fantastic heaps. The breeze slackened somewhat as the sun reddened the east, and the ponies threw up their heads and whinnied slightly, increasing their speed. Westcott saw the marshal arise himself, straighten in the saddle, and stare about, his eyes still dull and heavy.

"One h—l of a view, Jim," he said disgustedly, "but I reckon we can't be a great ways from that spring. We've been ridin' right smart."

"It's not far ahead; the ponies might water. Ah! there's a bunch o' green ahead; that'll likely be Badger springs."

Assured they were beyond pursuit, the two unsaddled and turned the ponies out to crop the few handfuls of wire grass which the sweet water bubbling up from a slight depression had coaxed into stunted growth. There was no wood to be had, although they found evidence of several camp-fires, and consequently they were obliged to content themselves with what they could find eatable in their bag. Except for a few sentences neither spoke, until Brennan, having partially satisfied his appetite, produced the note given him by Miss La Rue, and deliberately slashed open the sealed envelope.

"In the name of the law," he said grimly, hauling out the inclosure. "Now we'll see what's the row. Holy smoke! It's in Spanish! Here, Jim, do you read that thing?"

"I know words here and there," and Westcott bent over the paper, his brows wrinkling. "Let's see; it's not quite clear, but the sense is that Mendez will be paid a thousand dollars for something—I can't make out what, only it has to do with prisoners. Lacy says he'll be there to confer with him some time tonight."

"Lacy write it?"

"Yes; at least he signed it."

"Well, if Lacy aims to meet Mendez tonight, he ought to be along here soon after nightfall. How'd it do to hide in these sand hills and wait?"

"We can do that, Dan. If we don't hit any trail," said Westcott, leaning over his hand on the other's knee, "but if we can get there earlier, I'd rather not waste time. There's no knowing what a devil like Mendez may do. Let's take a scout around, anyhow."

They started, the one going east, the other west, and made a wide circle until they met, a hundred yards or so, south of the spring, having found nothing. Again they circled out, plowing their way through the sand, and at last once Brennan lifted his hand into the air and called. Westcott hurried over to where he stood motionless, staring down at the track of a wagon wheel. It had slid along a slight declivity, and left a mark so deep as not yet to be obliterated. They traced it for thirty feet before it entirely disappeared.

"Still goin' south," affirmed the marshal, gazing in that direction. "Don't look like there's nothin' out there, but we might try. Let's saddle up."

It was a blind trail, and progress was slow. The men separated, riding back and forth, leaning forward in the saddles, scanning the sand; for the slightest sign. Twice they encountered an undoubted wheel mark, and once traces of the whole four wheels were plainly visible. These could be followed easily for nearly a quarter of a mile, but then as quickly vanished as the wagon came again to an outcropping of rock. Yet this was assured—the outfit had headed steadily southward.

SOCIAL ARBITER AT WASHINGTON

Department of State Is Court of Last Resort.

FIXES SEATING OF GUESTS

Takes Big Responsibility Off the Shoulders of Hostess—No One Can Take Offense if His Place Does Not Suit His Idea of Prominence—Washington Social Structure Founded on Its Elaborate Seating System.

The department of state is society's court of last resort in the capital.

The burden of responsibility for seating guests in their proper order no longer rests upon the shoulders of Washington's society women.

Those who plan an entertainment for a titled guest or other distinguished visitor call up a certain official in the state department and all the details are arranged. The master of ceremonies is a Mr. Cook.

For example, the state department approves a dinner and sets a date, but its responsibility does not end there. Within a few days Mrs. Blank sends in her list of guests and Mr. Cook's office arranges the order in which they are to be seated. No question can arise as to the taste of the lady; no one can take offense if his place does not suit his idea of prominence. The state department has seated the guests, and its dictum is final.

Many "Precedents" Broken.

The very lack of rank in society in this country has exaggerated the importance of rank. Precedents have been set by one president and another. Custom and convention law have been the cause of many disputes. Nearly every administration brought about new social problems, and every new president's wife broke some "precedent" by not following exactly the methods of the lady preceding her.

Society at the capital has been somewhat varied and almost chaotic in the Wilson administration. During the war the formality and much of the gaiety ceased. The White House, occupied with war and the serious problems of the times, gave little attention to the lighter side. The society women at the capital turned their talents toward war relief and supplementary work.

The foundation upon which is built the complicated structure of Washington society is the seating system. The newcomers make the first calls, and the women, whose husbands held the lowest offices are expected to pay their respects to the ladies of higher "rank."

Some idea as to the proportions reached by social duties can be gained from statistics of cabinet ladies' obligations. They average between 500 and 1,000 calls.

To classify and simplify their duties, most of the women in Washington have adopted a system of book keeping. Mrs. Roosevelt's social secretary developed this system of books which has been adopted by many.

Leave Cards at White House. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson does not receive calls in the ordinary sense of the expression. Women, wishing to pay their respects to the present "first lady" call at the White House and leave their cards. Later they may write to Mrs. Wilson's social secretary that they wish to meet her.

At intervals Mrs. Wilson gives in formal teas for about 30 women, which are known as altogether charming affairs. This is her manner of receiving calls.

The foreign visitors to this country in the last year have been received and entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall.

HOW TO DETECT WHALE MEAT

Method Developed in Laboratory Studies in Washington.

A wide range of research work in connection with federal meat inspection is shown by a recent report of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. Laboratory studies during the past year developed a method for the detection of whale meat in sausage or other mixtures with animal fats. In co-operation with the bureau of markets the meat-inspection laboratories made studies of the melting point and composition of the fat of soft pork. Other activities were the analysis of spices, branding ink, rat exterminators, waxes, and other products used directly or indirectly in connection with meat inspection and the packing industry.

OPEN RICH MICA DEPOSITS

New Mexico Mines, Long Idle, Furnish Foundation for New Industry.

The commercial mica industry, which is just being opened up in New Mexico, promises, it is said, to be one of the most extensive of its kind in the United States.

For years this deposit, which stretches over the eastern and southern portion of Rio Arriba county, and extends into Santa Fe county, has lain dormant, but it is now being developed after tests have fully demonstrated that the mica is equal in quality to that produced anywhere else.

Ground mica is used in the manufacture of paints, axle grease, roofing material, wallpaper, fire powder and as an adulterant in rubber, as well as for the manufacturing of waxes.

Questions.

1. Are children born with consumption, or do they catch it from contact with those who have it?
2. What precaution should a consumptive take to protect others?
3. What makes the material coughed up by a consumptive dangerous to others?

THREE ANGLES

The death certificate read Minnie Allison, aged twenty, tuberculosis. When Minnie was a child, her mother had died from tuberculosis. At twenty, Minnie, apparently in splendid health, active in war work, caught a cold she could not shake off. She lost weight and strength. The night sweats and spitting of blood forced her to the doctor, but it was too late. Granny Brown had prophesied a many years before, that the child would inherit the disease of the mother. But Granny Brown was wrong. Minnie Allison did not inherit the disease, but contracted it. And as most cases originate in childhood, it is probable that the seeds were planted as her tuberculous mother kissed her baby lips. These seeds had remained living, but quiet. When her resisting forces were weakened by the strain of driving work, the germs of tuberculosis multiplied and spread, and there was another victim of galloping consumption.

Six months later Charles Wilkins replied to a letter from his cousin

B-ville, Pa. —19

Dear Cousin,

Shortly after I received your letter telling of the death of Minnie Allison, I saw Miss Brown, the State Nurse I mentioned. I had been feeling weighty, was short of breath and felt rotten. She said, "See a Doctor." I did, and he said, "Perhaps tuberculosis." I am most collapsed. But the doctor went on "Cheer up, take it easy and keep in the air and sunshine and protect others." That night I slept on the porch and felt fine the next day.

The laboratory report of what I coughed up (Sputum) showed millions of germs. The doctor told me to cover a cough with gauze or paper handkerchiefs, to spit in a paper cup, some of which he gave me. The handkerchiefs and cups to be burned after use. To wash my hands frequently, using paper towels. To use my own dishes and table utensils, which should be boiled after each use, to avoid shaking hands or kissing, particularly in regard to children. Thus I would protect others.

I am going to get well. I wrote George Jenkins at the Mont Alto Sanatorium, asking him about the place. I expect to go there.

Your cousin,

Charles Wilkins

Several days later the reply came from George Jenkins

State Sanatorium, Mont Alto, Pa. —19

Dear Charles:

Sorry to learn old T. B. has his mit on you, but don't worry. He's not the "Chump" he used to be. When he scores a knockout, it's almost always the other fellow's fault.

There are a thousand of us here and every one with a smile. I had an idea that Mont Alto was as cheerful as a barbers' convention after the first of July, but I got another thing— they sure are "hot" here. When the stringer out of gloom here, Spunk, the magazine published by the patients, matches the spirit of the place. There are two parts to the Sanatorium. The hospital where the bed patients are, and the Cottages where I live.

The cottages have four rooms, each with two windows which are always open. We arrive at six thirty. At seven breakfast, then back to our cottages to tidy up. After the doctor looks us over, we go to "cure." You wonder what that is. We sit in comfortable chairs in the open air pavilions and do things. They call it "Occupational Therapy." Don't know what that is? I didn't either the first time I heard it, I thought it was a disease.

It's this way. A fellow comes here, he thinks he's out, he's afraid he can never work again and he is inclined to sit around and mope all he gets a home-sick. So they give him something to do. He gets too busy thinking about what he's doing to worry about him self. So, instead of getting worse while he waits, he gets well while he works, and that's "Occupational Therapy."

At 10:30 we get a mug of real 18-karat milk. Dinner at noon. This Mont Alto air, after dinner, the pines, 1000 feet up, makes dinner worth while. After dinner, bell for an hour. Then those who have temperatures go to cure and the rest take light exercise. Milk at 2:30. Supper at five and milk at 7:30.

We have a community house where we have entertainments, motion pictures and all that sort of thing.

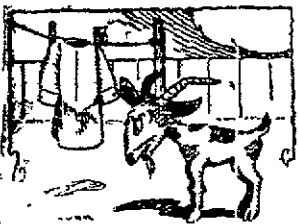

It doesn't cost a cent from the time you arrive, until you walk to the station again and say "Gimme a ticket home."

The doctor told me last week the disease was arrested in me. Good news I'll say, but I'm in this tight spot. It's tired, forced, and exacted and then those who have temperatures go to cure and the rest take light exercise. Milk at 2:30. Supper at five and milk at 7:30.

Your friend,
George Jenkins.

A consumptive should not live with children in an ill ventilated, dark crowded house. All consumptives should be treated in the method by which they may protect others.

If needful to protect others a consumptive may in accordance with law, be quarantined or sent to a sanatorium. Consumption may be arrested by: Rest; proper diet; sunshine; fresh air, and supervised occupation.

Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

There are two main reasons—one, the name itself, which certifies superior value—the other, that time tells the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect—and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires—longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

PROFITEERING DENOUNCED

Senator Declares Extortions Are the Principal Cause For Unrest.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Profiteering was denounced today in the Senate by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, who asserted that extortions of profiteers are the principal cause of wide spread unrest and that Congress has been "culpably inactive" in moving to relieve the situation.

Senator Walsh cited many large dividends including stock dividends paid recently by big corporations and declared the public outcry against the high cost of living were an acute political problem.
